INTRODUCTION TO THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Nature of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is the report of the Government of Canada prepared each fiscal year by the Receiver General as required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act.

The report covers the fiscal year of the Government, which ends on March 31, and is prepared from data contained in the accounts of Canada and from more detailed records maintained in departments and agencies. The accounts of Canada is the centralized record of the Government's financial transactions maintained by the Receiver General in which the transactions of all departments and agencies are summarized. Each department and agency is responsible for reconciling its accounts to the control accounts of the Receiver General, and for maintaining detailed records of the transactions in their accounts.

The report covers the financial transactions of the Government during the year. In certain cases, parliamentary authority to undertake transactions was provided by legislation approved in earlier years.

Format of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is produced in three volumes.

Volume I presents a summary analysis of the financial transactions of the Government. Its content is summarized as follows:

SECTION 1: financial overview and a nine-year summary of the Government's financial transactions;

SECTION 2: audited financial statements of the Government of Canada, prepared in accordance with Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act;

SECTION 3: review of budgetary revenue;

SECTION 4: review of Estimates and appropriations;

SECTION 5: review of budgetary expenditure;

SECTION 6: analysis of consolidated specified purpose accounts;

SECTION 7: analysis of loans, investments and advances;

SECTION 8: analysis of specified purpose accounts;

SECTION 9: analysis of other liabilities;

SECTION 10: analysis of foreign exchange accounts;

SECTION 11: analysis of unmatured debt; and,

SECTION 12: analysis of other information related to the financial statements.

Volume II is published in two parts. Part I presents the financial operations of the Government, segregated by ministry while Part II presents additional information and analyses.

(a) PART I

Part I is designed to reflect as closely as possible the form and content of Part II of the Main Estimates. Most tables and statements in Part I display the source and disposition of spending authorities. The content of Part I is summarized as follows:

(i) Summary Tables (Section 1)

Section 1 includes tables which provide summaries of the financial operations contained in the ministerial sections. It also includes, as appendices, the full wording of all authorities granted in current year Appropriation Acts, of all authorities granted by statutes other than Appropriation Acts, of all non-lapsing authorities granted in the current year, and of all authorities available from previous years.

(ii) Ministerial Sections (Sections 2 to 29)

There is one section for each ministry. The programs for the departments and agencies for which a Minister is responsible to Parliament are grouped together to provide a total ministry presentation. Each ministerial section provides a statement of program objectives and activity descriptions. Each ministerial section also includes, where applicable, a uniform set of statements to present each ministry's financial operations. These statements are:

- Ministry Summary

  This statement displays by program the source and disposition of each budgetary and non-budgetary authority granted by Parliament in Appropriation Acts and other statutes.

- Programs by Activity

  This statement displays by program the source and disposition of authorities for each activity under each type of expenditure (operating, capital, transfer payments and non-budgetary).

- Transfer Payments

  This statement displays by program the source and disposition of authorities for each transfer payment.

- Details of Amounts Credited to the Vote

  This statement displays by program the nature of revenues and receipts which increase the amounts which may be spent from appropriations having net voting authority.

- Revenue

  This statement displays by program the nature of revenue collected for each main classification of revenue.

(b) PART II

Part II presents additional information and analyses. The content of Part II is summarized as follows:

- financial statements of revolving funds (Section 1);
- financial statements of departmental corporations and other entities (Section 2);
- supplementary information required by the Financial Administration Act (Section 3);
- accounts receivable (Section 4);
- professional and special services (Section 5);
- construction and acquisition of land, buildings, works, machinery and equipment (Section 6);
- transfer payments (Section 7);
- public debt charges (Section 8);
- payments of damage claims, ex gratia payments, Federal Court awards and nugatory payments (Section 9);
- federal-provincial shared-cost programs (Section 10);
- other Government-wide information (Section 11); and,
- other miscellaneous information (Section 12).

Volume III contains an annual consolidated report on the businesses and activities of all parent Crown corporations together with a listing of all Crown corporations and other corporate interests of Canada.

INTRODUCTION

This section provides an overview of the financial operations of the Government of Canada. The financial transactions of the Government are set out in summary form, with comparative figures for the previous eight years. The financial transactions are presented in accordance with the accounting policies explained in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume.

The statements reflect the accounting basis introduced in the February 1986 Budget whereby the transactions of certain specified purpose and other accounts are reported as part of budgetary transactions rather than non-budgetary transactions. These include the Unemployment Insurance Account, the Western Grain Stabilization Account, the Crop Reinsurance Fund, the Agricultural Commodities Stabilization Accounts, the Canadian Ownership Account, the Oil Export Charges Revenue Sharing Account, and other specified purpose accounts. In addition, the profits of the Exchange Fund Account are recorded on a current basis, loans to developing countries are recorded as a budgetary expenditure, and revenue and expenditure are reported net of transactions internal to the Government.

1987-88 -- THE YEAR IN RETROSPECT

This part provides an overview of the Government's financial operations. More details are provided under "Supplementary Financial Information" in this section and in the remainder of this volume.

The Deficit and the Net Debt

The deficit for fiscal year 1987-88 was $28,083 million, a decline of $2,522 million from the 1986-87 deficit of $30,605 million and a decline of $10,241 million from the peak recorded in 1984-85. This represents the third consecutive year in which the deficit has declined. The year-over-year reduction in the deficit reflects the continued strength in the Canadian economy and the impact of certain fiscal and cash management initiatives introduced in past budgets. As a percentage of Gross Domestic Product, the deficit declined from 8.6% in 1984-85 to 5.1% 1987-88.

The 1987-88 reduction in the deficit has resulted in a continuation of the slowing down in the rate of growth of the accumulated deficit or net debt. As of March 31, 1988, the net debt was $292,184 million or 10.6% above the March 31, 1987 level of $264,101 million. This compares to increases of 13.1% and 17.3% in 1986-87 and 1985-86, respectively, and is less than one half the rate of growth experienced in 1984-85.

Table 1.1 sets out the deficit and net debt over the last nine fiscal years, both in absolute terms and as a percentage of Gross Domestic Product for the calendar year ending in those fiscal years.

Factors Affecting the Deficit

The improvement in the deficit in 1987-88 largely reflects the continuing strength in the economy, which has resulted in increased revenues and has served to restrain the growth in expenditures. In addition, the ongoing impact of the expenditure reduction initiatives put in place since November 1984, coupled with certain cash management initiatives which became effective in 1987-88 and revenue measures designed to ensure that revenue growth restore the yield from the tax system, also contributed to the decline in the deficit outcome for 1987-88. However, offsetting some of the impact of these developments on the deficit has been the continuing adverse effect of low grain prices on farm incomes, which has resulted in increased payments under the various farm income stabilization programs and in additional assistance under the Special Canadian Grains program.

Budgetary revenue increased by 13.6% in 1987-88 to $97,452 million. Underlying this increase in revenue was the continuing strength in economic activity throughout 1987-88, the impact of the acceleration of source deductions by large employers, timing of the processing of personal income tax refund cheques and the proceeds from the sale of Teleglobe Canada. The largest component of budgetary revenue, personal income tax, accounted for about 62% of the total increase in revenue. Strong advances in employment, coupled with a slower pace of personal income tax refunds and the impact of the source acceleration initiative were the major factors contributing to the growth in personal income tax revenue. It is estimated that the acceleration of remittances of source deductions from large employers amounted to a one-time gain of $1.2 billion. This initiative, which affected large employers only, had no effect on an individual's personal income tax liability. Strong advances in consumption, partially offset by the effect of tariff rate reductions as specified under the 1979 Multilateral Trade Negotiations Agreement, reductions in the quarterly indexation factor on the sales tax rate for gasoline and diesel fuel and the elimination of the Petroleum and Gas Revenue Tax underlie the growth in sales and excise tax revenue. Although corporate profits were up substantially, the application of unused losses and deductions restrained the growth in corporation income tax collections to only 10%. Unemployment insurance contributions reflected the impact of the strong advances in employment and the source acceleration initiative, as premium rates remained unchanged from their 1986 levels. The increase in non-tax revenue primarily reflects the capital gain on the sale of Teleglobe Canada.

On the expenditure side, program spending increased by 7.6% while public debt charges increased by 8.9%, resulting in an overall increase in total budgetary expenditure of 7.9%, the largest year-over-year increase since 1984-85. Most of the increase in program spending was concentrated in a few selected areas: social assistance programs, agricultural stabilization programs, fiscal transfers, defence and foreign aid. Most of the increase in the social assistance program was in job creation and training programs and old age security benefits, reflecting the impact of inflation on the indexation formula. The international grain price dispute between the United States and the European Economic Community and its resulting impact on international grain prices has triggered large payouts under the Western Grain Stabilization Act, while the increase in foreign assistance reflects Canada's commitment to maintain Official Development Assistance contributions at 0.5% of Gross National Product. Spending on the other components of Government expenditure remained restrained, reflecting the strength in the economy as well as Government initiatives for cost reductions through better management and the streamlining of selected program expenditures. The increase in public debt charges largely reflected an increase in this debt and the impact of higher interest rates.

Table 1.2 sets out movements in revenue, expenditure and the deficit over the last nine fiscal years.

Factors Affecting Financial Requirements

The Government's net financial requirements reflect not only the difference between budgetary revenue and expenditure, but also non-budgetary transactions. Non-budgetary transactions provided the Government with a source of funds amounting to $9,930 million in 1987-88, up $892 million from that provided in 1986-87. The source of the 1987-88 funds includes $1,509 million from loans, investments and advances, $7,482 million from specified purpose accounts and $939 million from other non-budgetary transactions.

As a result of the $2,522 million reduction in the deficit and a $892 million increase in net receipts from non-budgetary transactions, financial requirements excluding foreign exchange transactions were lower by $3,414 million in 1987-88, at $18,153 million. In addition, there were $7,149 million of requirements for 1987-88 foreign exchange transactions, bringing total 1987-88 financial requirements to $25,302 million. These requirements were financed by a $22,217 million increase in unmatured debt transactions, and a $3,085 million running down of cash balances.

Table 1.3 sets out the financial requirements over the last nine fiscal years, while Table 1.4 sets out non-budgetary transactions for the same period.

SUPPLEMENTARY FINANCIAL INFORMATION

This part provides a nine year comparative summary of the Government's financial transactions, both on the Public Accounts basis and on the National Accounts basis. The Public Accounts presentation reflects the accounting policies explained in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume. The National Accounts presentation is designed primarily to facilitate economic analysis of the federal Government sector on a basis consistent with that used in measuring income and expenditure flows in the economy.

Public Accounts Presentation

The "Summary Statement of Transactions" (Table 1.5) provides aggregate data on the major categories of transactions under four main headings: budgetary, non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt. The resulting cash position at the end of each year is also shown.

National Accounts Presentation

The National Income and Expenditure Accounts were developed as a basis for economic analysis of income and expenditure flows in the economy. The concepts and definitions applied to the Government sector are consistent with those applied to other sectors and follow international practices developed under the aegis of the United Nations. The economic nature of a transaction is the determining factor in its classification within the National Accounts framework.

In 1987-88, the National Accounts deficit declined by $3,049 million or 12.2% from the 1986-87 level. This reflects a 12.3% increase in revenue and a 7.1% increase in expenditure. As with the 1986-87 decline in the deficit, the 1987-88 decline reflects Government initiatives for expenditure restraint as well as increased revenue resulting from a stronger economy in 1987-88.

Public Accounts and National Accounts Reconciliation

The reconciliation of transactions between the Public Accounts and National Accounts is set out in the table that follows. The major factors which give rise to the need for a reconciliation are listed below.

The deficits of Government business enterprises which are outside the Government accounting entity are, for Public Accounts presentation purposes, met through budgetary appropriations and are thus recorded as budgetary expenditure. In the National Accounts presentation, these deficits are netted against Government investment income.

Revenue in the Public Accounts is recorded on a cash basis. While the major portion of National Accounts revenue is accounted for on a cash basis, certain items, such as corporate income taxes and the oil export charges, are reported on an accrual basis.

Transactions of employee pension accounts are treated as non-budgetary in the Public Accounts, although the Government's contributions to, and interest payments on, these accounts are included in expenditure. Employer and employee contributions to these accounts, plus any related interest income, form part of Government revenue in the National Accounts presentation, and pension payments form part of Government expenditure.

In the Public Accounts presentation, the purchase of capital assets such as buildings and machinery is recorded as a budgetary expenditure in the year of acquisition. Only newly produced capital assets and capital expenditures are included in National Accounts expenditure. The National Accounts also ignore the sale of capital assets as such sales are not deemed to give rise to production. Both Government revenue and expenditure include an allowance for the depreciation of capital assets in the National Accounts termed "Capital consumption allowance". This item is not a part of Public Accounts reporting.

The National Accounts include certain Government agencies which are not part of the Public Accounts. The financial transactions of those agencies are included in National Accounts revenue and expenditure.

PREFACE TO THE AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

The fundamental purpose of the financial statements is to provide information to Parliament and thus to the public, to facilitate an understanding and evaluation of:

—the full nature and extent of the financial affairs and resources for which the Government is responsible, distinguishing between those of the Government and those relating to Crown corporations; and —whether the financial resources were administered by the Government in accordance with the dollar limits established by the appropriate legislative authorities.

The two basic concepts underlying the Government's accounting system are found in the Constitution Acts: first, the concept of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, which emanates from the requirement that all duties and revenues received, other than those reserved to the provinces, "shall form One Consolidated Revenue Fund"; second, the concept that the balance of the Fund, after certain prior charges, "shall be appropriated by the Parliament of Canada".

The financial statements consist of four statements and accompanying notes. The first statement is the Statement of Transactions, which shows how the financial requirements were met, and the effect of the transactions on the Consolidated Revenue Fund. The financial transactions are classified into the following categories:

- The first category, budgetary, consists of all the transactions with outside parties which enter into the calculation of the annual deficit or surplus of the Government, that is, the receipts from tax and non-tax revenue, together with the expenditures authorized by Parliament.
- The second category, non-budgetary, consists of transactions in loans, investments and advances, in liabilities for the administration of certain public money received or collected for special purposes, and in other liabilities. These transactions account for the change in the financial claims and obligations of the Government.
- The third category, foreign exchange, reflects transactions in international reserves held in the Exchange Fund Account (the principal objective of which is to aid in the control and protection of the external value of the Canadian dollar) together with an accounting of the net position of the Government with respect to the International Monetary Fund. Foreign exchange transactions include unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies.
- The fourth category, unmatured debt, represents the extent to which financial requirements have been met through the increase in unmatured debt, that is, the net change in amounts owing for marketable bonds, Canada savings bonds, special non-marketable bonds issued to the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund and Treasury bills. Unmatured debt transactions exclude unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies.

The second statement is the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, which gives a more detailed accounting of the budgetary transactions summarized in the Statement of Transactions and shows the changes in the accumulated deficit for the last two years.

The third statement is the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. This statement differs in some ways from the conventional balance sheet of the private sector. Fixed assets, having been accounted for as expenditures, are reported at the nominal value of $1, and revenues not yet received, such as uncollected taxes, are not recorded as assets. It should be noted, therefore, that the difference between total financial assets and total liabilities is simply the aggregate of annual budgetary deficits and surpluses determined in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government; this difference should not be taken as the Government's net worth.

The fourth statement is the Statement of Use of Appropriations, which summarizes by ministry, the use of parliamentary appropriations for budgetary expenditure and for loans, investments and advances. Total budgetary expenditure on this statement differs from total expenditure on the Statement of Transactions and the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit. The reasons for the differences are set out in Note 1 (ix) to the financial statements.

Other sections in this volume, together with Volumes II and III of the Public Accounts, are designed to provide more detailed information supporting the financial statements.

STATEMENT OF RESPONSIBILITY

The financial statements in this section were prepared by the Government of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 1 to the statements and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Responsibility for the integrity and objectivity of the financial statements rests with the Government. The financial statements are prepared under the joint direction of the President of the Treasury Board, the Minister of Finance, and the Receiver General for Canada, in compliance with governing legislation. The financial statements are prepared on a modified cash basis of accounting, that is revenues are reported on a cash basis and expenditures are reported on an accrual basis. Where there are departures from cash accounting, the information included in these financial statements is based on the Government's best estimates and judgement, with due consideration given to materiality. Financial information contained elsewhere in this volume is consistent with that in the financial statements unless otherwise indicated.

To fulfill its accounting and reporting responsibilities, the Government maintains systems of financial management and internal control which give due consideration to costs, benefits and risks, and which are designed to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are properly authorized by Parliament, are executed in accordance with prescribed regulations, and are properly recorded so as to maintain accountability of public money and safeguard the assets and properties of Canada under Government administration. The Receiver General for Canada maintains the accounts of Canada, a centralized record of the Government's financial transactions, and obtains additional information as required, from departments, agencies and Crown corporations, to meet accounting and reporting requirements.

The Auditor General of Canada provides an independent opinion on the financial statements prepared by the Government. The duties of the Auditor General in that respect are set out in Section 6 of the Auditor General Act, SC 1976-77, C.34 which states in part that the Auditor General "shall express his opinion as to whether they (the financial statements) present fairly information in accordance with stated accounting policies of the federal government and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year together with any reservations he may have".

Annually, the financial statements are tabled in Parliament as part of the Public Accounts, and are referred to the Standing Committee on Public Accounts, which reports to Parliament on the results of its examination together with any recommendations it may have with respect to the financial statements and accompanying audit opinion.

On behalf of the Government of Canada.

Notes to the Financial Statements of the Government of Canada

1. Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting policies of the Government of Canada are based on concepts embodied in the Constitution Acts, and in the Financial Administration Act and other legislation.

i. Government of Canada as an accounting entity

For purposes of maintaining the accounts of Canada and preparing the Public Accounts, the Government of Canada is defined as all the departments named in Schedule A of the Financial Administration Act; any division or branch of the Public Service, including a commission appointed under the Inquiries Act, designated by the Governor in Council as a department for purposes of the Financial Administration Act; the staffs of the Senate, the House of Commons, and the Library of Parliament; and, any corporation named in Schedule B of the Financial Administration Act.

In accordance with the above definition, the corporations listed in Parts I and II of Schedule C of the Financial Administration Act, and those Crown corporations that are not subject to Divisions I to IV of Part XII of the Financial Administration Act, are excluded from the Government of Canada as an accounting entity; therefore, their financial statements are not consolidated with those of the Government. However, the borrowings of those corporations which are agents of the Crown are recorded as a liability of the Government net of borrowings expected to be repaid directly by these corporations. The financial statements of Crown corporations are presented in Volume III of the Public Accounts.

In addition, certain accounts and funds have financial statements which are not consolidated with those of the Government, but appear separately in Volumes I and II (Part II). These accounts and funds include the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts and other specified purpose accounts.

ii. Classification of financial transactions

The financial transactions of the Government, as recorded in the accounts of Canada and reported in the Public Accounts, are classified into budgetary, non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions.

In general terms, budgetary transactions enter into the calculation of the annual deficit or surplus and are reported on the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit. All other transactions lead to the acquisition or disposal of financial claims or to the creation or discharge of financial obligations, and are disclosed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

For purposes of reporting, the Public Accounts uses the classification in force at the end of the year to which the report refers and amounts for the previous year are reclassified retroactively to conform to the current year's accounting policies and presentation.

iii. Budgetary transactions

REVENUE

Revenue consists of all tax and non-tax receipts which affect the annual deficit or surplus of the Government.

The Government generally reports revenue in the year in which it is received, with refunds of revenue allocated to the year in which they are actually paid.

Revenue is reported after deducting refunds paid, and excludes amounts receivable, taxes collected on behalf of provinces and territories, and amounts credited to the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts, other specified purpose accounts, and other liability accounts.

On the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, revenue is reported both gross and net. The difference between the two is revenue from outside parties credited to appropriations.

EXPENDITURE

Expenditure consists of all charges to budgetary appropriations which affect the annual deficit or surplus of the Government. In addition, expenditure may also include charges related to the provision for valuation of loans, investments and advances, the allowance for borrowings of agent Crown corporations, and accounts payable and other allowances related to statutory items and certain annual appropriations. Such charges include those for work performed, goods received, services rendered, and transfer payments made, during the year and in the supplementary period including accounts payable at year end.

Expenditure excludes amounts charged to the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts, other specified purpose accounts, and other liability accounts.

On the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, expenditure is reported both gross and net. The difference between the two is revenue from outside parties credited to appropriations.

iv. Assets

Assets are defined as the financial claims acquired by the Government on outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions recorded as at the closing date.

However, as a result of the Government's accounting policies described above, certain financial claims are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The most important of these are accounts receivable for tax and non-tax revenue.

v. Liabilities

Liabilities are defined as the financial obligations of the Government to outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions recorded as at the closing date.

However, as a result of the Government's accounting policies described above, and in accordance with enabling legislation, actuarial liabilities arising from the indexing to the cost of living, of superannuate pensions and annuities, are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. In addition, refunds payable for tax revenue are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

vi. Fixed assets

The fixed assets of the Government, which include land, engineering structures and works (such as canals, harbours and roads), buildings, and machinery and equipment, are charged to budgetary expenditure at the time of acquisition or construction. Their existence, however, is acknowledged on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities by reporting them at the nominal value of $1.

vii. Valuation of assets and liabilities

ASSETS

Assets are recorded at cost and are subject to annual valuation to reflect reductions from the recorded value to the estimated realizable value. In the case of loans to sovereign states, no reduction in value is recorded unless a sovereign state has formally repudiated its debts. In addition, the allowance for valuation reflects reductions from the recorded value of loans (and subscriptions to international organizations that make similar loans) with significant concessionary terms.

The Government's gold reserves are included in the International reserves held in the Exchange Fund Account and are recorded and valued at 35 Special Drawing Rights per fine ounce. The Special Drawing Right is an international currency created by the International Monetary Fund, and allocated to countries participating in its Special Drawing Rights Department. It represents a unit of account defined in terms of a "basket" of five major currencies.

LIABILITIES

Liabilities are recorded at the amounts ultimately payable and liabilities for termination benefits, the superannuation accounts with the exception of indexing, and the Government Annuities Account, are valued on an actuarial basis.

viii. Translation of foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions are translated and recorded in Canadian dollar equivalents at the exchange rates prevailing at the transaction dates.

Assets and liabilities resulting from foreign currency transactions are, in turn, reported at year-end closing rates of exchange; net gains are credited to revenue, while net losses are charged to expenditure.

ix. Statement of Use of Appropriations

The Statement of Use of Appropriations summarizes the authorities available for both budgetary spending on operations and non-budgetary loans, investments and advances and the disposition of such authorities by ministry. The statement is prepared in accordance with the significant accounting policies described in this note with the following exceptions:

—appropriations available for use and used in the year include internal transactions between and within ministries; and between ministries and consolidated specified purpose accounts;

—the provision for valuation of assets and liabilities is not allocated to ministries; and

—budgetary appropriations for use and used in the year do not include amounts charged to consolidated specified purpose accounts.

2. Authorities for Transactions

Taxes can be raised and moneys can be borrowed only with the authority of Parliament. All receipts of money by departments and agencies must be deposited into the Consolidated Revenue Fund (CRF). All disbursements from the CRF for spending on operations, for loans, investments and advances, and for the redemption of matured debt must be authorized by Parliament.

i. Authority for spending on operations

Parliament provides authority to make payments out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund in annual appropriation acts and other statutes (the latter referred to as statutory appropriations). Most Government spending is under statutory authorities, that is authorities which do not generally impose an annual limit on the amount that may be spent. Spending is authorized by reference to statutory formulae or criteria and the authorities usually continue from year to year until changed or rescinded by an act of Parliament. Spending authority provided by statutory appropriations is for specified purposes and for such amounts and such time as the acts prescribe. Spending authority provided by statutory appropriations generally does not lapse at the end of the year in which it was granted. Spending authority granted in appropriation acts is for stated purposes and maximums amounts. Unless provided for in vote wording, unused spending authority granted in appropriation acts lapses at the end of the year for which it was granted. Some authorities continue from year to year and some authorize the spending, within a program, of defined categories of revenue generated by the program.

ii. Authority for loans, investments and advances

These authorities limit the amount of loans, investments or advances that may be made. Unused authority may lapse at the end of a year or may continue from year to year. Non-lapsing authorities often limit only the total of loans that may be outstanding at any one time; thus principal repaid may be reloaned.

iii. Borrowing authority

The Government can borrow only as authorized by acts of Parliament. Borrowing authority acts provide authority for the net amount of new security issues less redemptions during a fiscal year. The authorities lapse at the end of the year except for amounts specifically carried forward to the next fiscal year. Parliament has also provided a continuing authority to the Government under Section 39 of the Financial Administration Act to borrow, for periods not exceeding six months, such amounts as are deemed necessary to meet lawfully authorized disbursements.

Crown corporations (corporations wholly owned by the Crown) that are agents of Her Majesty also may borrow only as authorized by acts of Parliament. Such acts usually place a ceiling on the amount of borrowings that can be outstanding at any one time. Non-agent Crown corporations can borrow without specific parliamentary authority. Non-agent borrowings are sometimes guaranteed by the Government with the authority of Parliament.

3. Tax Credits

Entitlements to tax credits are claimed on personal income tax returns. Claims are settled either by reducing the tax liability for the year or, if no liability exists, by issuing a "refund" cheque. In either case, personal income tax revenues are reduced, even where no tax had been paid. Had the tax reductions and direct payments due to child tax credits been reported as expenditures, gross total expenditure and revenue would have increased respectively by $1,640 million ($1,360 million in 1987). Likewise, had the tax reductions and direct payments due to the sales tax credit been reported as expenditures, gross total expenditure and revenue would have increased respectively by $300 million ($80 million in 1987).

4. Presentation of Expenditure by Standard Object

Expenditure with outside parties per the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit is reported by standard object in the following table:

(2) In the current year, $2,298 million ($637 million in 1987) was provided for, and $1,498 million ($137 million in 1987) was written-off.

6. Accumulated Deficit

In accordance with its stated accounting policies, revenues and expenditures of certain specified purpose accounts are included in the revenue and expenditure of the Government. However, enabling legislation requires that such revenues be earmarked and that related payments be charged against such revenue. Any deficiency of payments over revenue must, in accordance with enabling legislation, be met through future revenue of these specified purpose accounts. The table below presents the balances of these accounts as at March 31, 1988 included in the accumulated deficit as follows:

	(in millions of dollars)

7. Crown Corporations

In accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1(i), the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses reported in the separate financial statements of Crown corporations are not included in the Government's financial statements. Only the financial transactions between the Government and Crown corporations are included.

The following tables separately summarize the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenditures of the Government and the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses of all Crown corporations. All identified transactions and balances between the Crown corporations and the Government have been reported in the tables.

The tables present the financial transactions and results of operations of the Government and the Crown corporations in accordance with their respective accounting policies. Most Crown corporations follow the generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) used by private sector companies, as outlined in the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants. The most significant difference between GAAP and the Government's basis of accounting described in Note 1 is that under GAAP, non-financial assets such as buildings, machinery, equipment and inventories are reflected as assets and written off over their respective expected lives or as they are used; the Government treats the acquisition of non-financial assets as expenditures in the year of acquisition.

A further significant difference is that the Government excludes from its assets accounts receivable arising from revenue transactions. The value of non-financial assets and revenue receivables reported by Crown corporations as at March 31, 1988 was $25,421 million and $6,459 million respectively ($25,384 million and $6,975 million in 1987).

For those Crown corporations whose year end is March 31, the data are based on audited financial statements. For those corporations having other year ends, the data are based on unaudited interim financial statements which have been prepared on a basis consistent with their most recent audited financial statements.

[1] Included in corporate revenues is financial assistance from the federal Government in respect of current operations of $4,583 million ($4,635 million in 1987).

8. International Development Assistance—Loans and Subscriptions

i. Loans to developing countries

Included in loans to National governments of $4,323 million ($4,404 million in 1987) are loans to developing countries of $3,163 million ($3,199 million in 1987). These loans arise from agreements signed with developing countries before April 1, 1986, are part of Canada's international development assistance program and are either interest-free or bear interest at rates that were more favourable than those prevailing in Canada at the time the assistance was provided. The balances outstanding at March 31, grouped by term, are:

Term	Grace period before repayment commences	Interest rate	(in millions of dollars) 1988	1987

* Interest-free.

[1] Rescheduled loans

These loans, by their terms, confer financial benefits on the recipients and have been fully provided for in the Allowance for valuation. Details can be found in Section 7 of this volume.

ii. Subscriptions and loans to international organizations

Included in Loans, investments and advances—International organizations of $4,564 million ($4,542 million in 1987) are subscriptions to the capital of the International Development Association and loans to other international financial institutions of $3,981 million ($3,854 million in 1987) which are also part of Canada's development assistance program. These institutions make loans to developing countries on terms similar to those described in sub-section i. Subscriptions to international organizations do not provide a return on investment but are repayable on termination of the organization or on withdrawal therefrom. Details, including Canada's agreement for future subscriptions, can be found in Section 7 of this volume.

Loans, investments and advances—International organizations are presented net after deduction of notes payable of $1,874 million ($1,837 million in 1987), including $1,806 million ($1,746 million in 1987) of notes payable to the aforementioned Association and institutions. The notes are non-interest bearing, are non-negotiable, but are payable on demand, although they are normally encashed over periods of up to seven years, according to the financial requirements of the institutions.

Included in the Allowance for valuation is an amount of $2,175 million ($2,108 million in 1987) equal to the net position of the Government vis-à-vis these institutions.

9. Gold

Included in International reserves held in the Exchange Fund Account of $14,779 million ($8,212 million in 1987) are Canada's gold holdings of 18,397 million fine ounces with a recorded value of $1,104 million (19,423 million fine ounces with a recorded value of $1,141 million in 1987).

Gold is valued at the Canadian dollar equivalent of 35 Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) per fine ounce, which approximates its cost in foreign currency terms. At March 31, 1988, the Canadian dollar equivalent of 35 SDRs was $59.96 per fine ounce ($58.74 per fine ounce in 1987). The SDR is a unit of account used by the International Monetary Fund and is valued in terms of a "basket" of five major currencies.

Alternative bases of valuation could be used to value gold. On a market value basis ($564.29 per fine ounce in 1988, $549.62 in 1987), the recorded value would have been $10,381 million ($10,675 million in 1987). On the basis of estimated average cost in Canadian dollars at historical rates of exchange ($36.91 per fine ounce in both 1988 and 1987), the recorded value would have been $679 million ($717 million in 1987). Further details can be found in the financial statements of the Exchange Fund Account, included in Section 10 of this volume.

10. Canada Pension Plan

Under existing legislation, benefits and costs incurred in the administration of the Canada Pension Plan are financed from contributions from employees, employers and self-employed persons, and from interest from the investment of contributions not immediately needed for benefits and costs. Although the Canada Pension Plan was established under federal legislation, the Plan is under the joint control of the Government and the provinces. Any province or group of provinces having ⅓ of the population of Canada can veto any amendment to the Canada Pension Plan that affects the level of contributions or benefits. The Government's authority to pay benefits under the Plan is limited to the balance in the Canada Pension Plan Account which was $36,021 million at March 31, 1988. Therefore, in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government, the revenues and expenditures of the Plan have not been reported with those of the Government.

In 1988, revenues of the Canada Pension Plan Account were $9.3 billion ($8.4 billion in 1987) and expenditures were $7.5 billion ($5.9 billion in 1987). The balance of the Canada Pension Plan Account is $36 billion at March 31, 1988 ($34.2 billion at March 31, 1987). Funds in excess of estimated current operating requirements ($33.7 billion at March 31, 1988; $32.3 billion at March 31, 1987) are available for investments in securities of the provinces, territories and of the Government, on the basis of contributions from the jurisdiction to total contributions to the Account.

A long term funding objective of approximately two years of benefits has been set for the Plan by the establishment of a 25 year schedule of contribution rates starting January 1, 1987. The first 5 years require an annual .2 percentage points shared increase to the initial employer-employee contribution rate of 3.6% of contributory earnings. Contribution rates for the 20 subsequent years involve shared increases of .15 percentage points and are subject to quinquennial federal-provincial reviews. The financial statements of the Account are reproduced in Section 8 of this volume.

11. Superannuation Accounts

The Government sponsors defined benefit pension plans for substantially all its full-time employees, principally members of the Public Service, the Canadian Forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP). Basic pensions, which are mostly based on the best 6 years average earnings and are accrued at the rate of 2 percent of average salary per year of service, are provided under the authority of the Public Service Superannuation Act, the Canadian Forces Superannuation Act and the RCMP Superannuation Act, respectively. Benefits are limited, the maximum being seventy percent of final average earnings. Basic pensions are annually (on January 1) indexed to the cost of living under authority of the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act.

The Public Service Superannuation Act also covers the employees of certain Crown corporations, agencies and other institutions. The pension obligations of these entities are limited to matching their employees' contributions; any actuarial deficiency is borne by the Government.

The employee contribution for these basic benefits is six and one half percent of pay, less contributions to the Canada or Quebec Pension Plan. In addition, employees contribute 1% of pay towards indexing. For basic benefits, the employer matches the prior year's employee contributions for members of the Public Service, and contributes 1.8 and 2 times current year's contributions for members of the Canadian Forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police respectively. Indexation contributions are matched.

Contributions are credited to non-budgetary accounts. The basic superannuation accounts earn interest at rates that are based on the Government of Canada long-term bond rates. The interest rate earned by the basic accounts was about 11% in both 1988 and 1987. The indexation account is credited with interest based on five year Government of Canada bond rates. The rate in 1988 was 9.2% (8.8% in 1987).

All benefit payments are charged to non-budgetary accounts, except for certain indexing benefits in the cases where retirees have exhausted their credits in the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account. In such cases, indexing benefits are charged directly to expenditure.

The superannuation accounts shown on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities include liabilities for basic pensions and indexing. Liabilities for basic pensions are determined on an actuarial basis, those for indexing are not. The Government has estimated that if the liabilities for all these superannuation accounts were determined on an actuarial basis, the reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would increase by $3.8 billion at March 31, 1988 ($3.1 billion at March 31, 1987).

This estimate incorporates, initially, the effects of currently high rates of interest credited to the Accounts and other current economic conditions. These economic assumptions are blended gradually into long-term economic assumptions which, from 1999, are assumed to be an interest rate on new funds of 6%, general wage increases of 5%, and an inflation rate of 3.5%. Even minor variations in these assumptions can result in a significantly higher, or lower, estimate of additional liabilities.

The following table discloses pension and related interest costs charged to expenditure in 1987-88.

	(in millions of dollars)
	Public Service	Canadian Forces	Royal Canadian Mounted Police	1988 Total	1987 Total
Employer contributions	508	274	89	871	813
Indexation benefits charged directly to expenditure	501	314	24	839	784
Amortization of actuarial deficiencies		4		4[1]	116[1]

	4,032	2,441	401	6,874	6,214

[1] Interest on pension accounts is stated, where applicable, net of amortization of actuarial deficiencies. Interest charged to the public debt represents the total of the two amounts.

In addition to the plans described above, pension obligations exist with respect to several other pension plans, the most significant of which cover all members of Parliament and federally appointed judges. The Government has estimated, using the same economic assumptions described above, that if the liabilities for these plans were determined on an actuarial basis, the reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would increase by approximately $400 million at March 31, 1988 ($350 million at March 31, 1987).

Details of the Accounts are reproduced in Section 8 of this volume.

12. Borrowings of Agent Crown Corporations

Included in borrowings of agent Crown corporations of $14.8 billion ($15.8 billion in 1987) are the borrowings of the Canadian Wheat Board (CWB) of $3.8 billion ($4 billion in 1987).

Approximately $3.5 billion of the borrowings of the CWB have been incurred to finance credit grain sales to various countries. Terms of the credit grain sales call for payment in full within 36 months or less from time of shipment. However, certain countries are experiencing difficulties in servicing their international financial obligations. These countries owe CWB approximately $3.2 billion ($3.3 billion in 1987) including accrued interest. Of this amount, approximately $1.9 billion represents original principal and $1.3 billion represents accrued and unpaid interest. Approximately $0.7 billion of the accrued interest has been converted to principal under rescheduling agreements.

It should be noted that, for such loans to sovereign borrowers, payment delays are not necessarily indicative of a future loss requiring an allowance. Sovereign entities and their international financial obligations do not have commercial mortality and the international system provides several mechanisms and institutions through which countries facing repayment difficulties can effect remedial measures in agreement with their creditors. At March 31, the Government and the CWB were in the process of negotiating the rescheduling of approximately $0.7 billion in sovereign obligations including principal and accrued interest. The Government is of the opinion that these negotiations will result in no significant loss on CWB's related assets.

Therefore, the Government, as guarantor of CWB's borrowings to finance credit grain sales, has made no valuation allowance in its financial statements.

13. Unmatured Debt

[1] Canada savings bonds are redeemable on demand.

Foreign currency amounts are translated to the Canadian dollar equivalent at year end. At year end, foreign currency borrowings included the following:

		(in millions of dollars)
	1988	1988	1987

		11,294	12,010

[1] The 1988 and 1987 Canadian $ equivalent is comprised of the conversion of Yen debt and U.S. dollar swap risks.

Substantially all the debt of the Government is issued at fixed rates. The Government has interest rate swap agreements expiring in 1989, 1990 and 1995 on U.S. $1.9 billion in notional principal. The Government has assumed a variable interest rate determined by the London Inter-bank Offered Rate (LIBOR) market against a weighted average 10.58% fixed interest rate position assumed by third parties.

The Government has also entered into currency swap agreements expiring in 1991, 1992 and 1993 which have the effect of converting future exchange fluctuation risks of Yen debt totalling 180,000 million Yen to U.S. dollar risks totalling $1,086 million.

During the year the Government has also entered into two domestic interest rate swap agreements expiring in 1992 and 1993 on $300 million in notional principal. The interest rate on these two agreements is tied to the three-month Bankers' acceptance rate and quantified quarterly.

The proceeds of Canada's borrowings in foreign currency have been advanced to the Exchange Fund Account. Interest on all swap transactions is recorded in a consistent manner in the financial statements.

14. Borrowing Authorities

The following table shows the borrowing authorities available and the use of such authorities for the years ended March 31, 1988 and 1987, and reconciles the use of such authorities to the change in unmatured debt as reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

[1] Authorizes the Government to borrow, for a fixed period not exceeding six months, amounts necessary to ensure that the Consolidated Revenue Fund will be sufficient to meet lawfully authorized disbursements.

15. Accounts Receivable

Non-tax accounts receivable including amounts receivable to be credited to votes represent billed but uncollected and/or unbilled and accrued financial claims arising from amounts owed to the Government for use of its assets or for services rendered as of the accounting date. Non-tax accounts receivable of the Government as at March 31, 1988, amounted to approximately $2.1 billion (approximately $1.9 billion in 1987) net of an allowance for doubtful accounts. Details of accounts receivable can be found in Section 4 of Volume II (Part II) of the Public Accounts.

16. Contractual Commitments

A contractual commitment represents a written obligation to outside organizations or individuals as a result of a contract. The nature of the Government's activities requires it to enter into contracts that are significant in relation to its current financial position or that will materially affect the level of future expenditure. Major capital assets of the Government are either purchased outright or leased. Where a lease transfers substantially all of the benefits and risks incidental to ownership of the property to the lessee it is considered a capital lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases. Contractual commitments can be classified into four categories; fixed assets, purchases, operating leases and capital leases.

All contractual commitments of $100 million or more per project are reported in the case of fixed assets, purchases and operating leases. In the case of capital leases, all capital lease arrangements with total minimum lease payments remaining at year-end in excess of $1 million per contract are reported.

The following amounts represent contractual commitments at March 31, 1988 which will result in substantial outlays in future years.

17. Insurance Programs

Three Crown corporations operate insurance programs as agents of Her Majesty. The insurance programs are intended to operate on a self-sustaining basis but in the event that such corporations do not have sufficient funds to meet their obligations, the Government provides the required financing through appropriations, either budgetary or non-budgetary. The Government is of the opinion that no allowance need be established in its financial statements for these insurance programs.

The Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (CDIC) provides insurance on deposits with member banks and trust and loan companies for up to $60,000 per depositor per institution. Total insured deposits at March 31, 1988 were $211,755 million ($200,277 million at March 31, 1987). The CDIC registered a profit for the year ended March 31, 1988 of $133 million (in 1987, the loss was $10 million). The deficiency of the CDIC's Deposit Insurance Fund at March 31, 1988 was $1,136 million ($1,269 million at March 31, 1987). The deficiency has been funded in part by loans from the Government of $1,334 million at March 31, 1988 ($1,203 million at March 31, 1987). Amendments to the CDIC Act effective June 30, 1987, allow for premium levels to be set by the Governor in Council, at amounts not to exceed 1/6 of 1% of insured deposits. Other amendments allow for premium surcharges in risk situations and raise the loan limits from the Consolidated Revenue Fund from $1.5 billion to $3 billion. The Government is of the opinion that, based on current information, this restructuring will allow CDIC, over time, to eliminate its deficiency without budgetary support from the Government.

The Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation administers the Mortgage Insurance Fund (MIF). The MIF provides insurance for mortgage lending on Canadian housing by private institutions. Insurance in force at March 31, 1988 was $42,800 million ($40,299 million at March 31, 1987). The MIF had income for the year ended March 31, 1988 of $157 million ($54 million in 1987). The deficiency of the MIF at March 31, 1988 was $261 million ($418 million at March 31, 1987). Budgetary financial assistance is provided by the Government only to the extent that internally generated funds are insufficient to support cash outflows. In this regard, the MIF's current excess of revenues over disbursements has resulted in investments in securities of $336 million at March 31, 1988 ($143 million in 1987).

The Export Development Corporation provides export and foreign investment insurance for the purpose of facilitating and developing export trade. Insurance in force at March 31, 1988 was $3,160 million ($2,643 million in 1987). The Corporation's premium revenues have been adequate to provide for the full costs of claims experienced to date and to establish an allowance for possible future claims based on past claims experience.

This information has not been audited because the three corporations have financial years other than March 31, 1988. Financial statements of these corporations and their insurance funds on a calendar year basis are reproduced in Volume III of the Public Accounts. Details of the transactions for these three insurance programs for the year ended March 31, 1988 can be found in Section 12 of this volume.

18. Contingent Liabilities of the Government of Canada

A contingent liability is a potential liability which may become an actual liability when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. The contingent liabilities of the Government consist of explicit guarantees and potential losses arising from pending and threatened litigation relating to claims and assessments in respect of breach of contract, damages to persons and property, and like items.

The Government has six comprehensive native land claims under negotiation which is the maximum number that may be negotiated at any one time. An additional 20 comprehensive native claims have been validated and are awaiting negotiation. A total of 100 specific native claims were also at various stages of the negotiation process as at March 31, 1988. A further 183 specific claims were under review to determine their acceptability for negotiation pursuant to the provisions of the policy on specific claims. The amount of land, financial and other benefits required to settle both comprehensive and specific native claims cannot be determined in advance of settlement and therefore no amount for such claims is included in contingent liabilities. Failure to reach an acceptable agreement could lead to future litigation cases which would then be reported as contingent liabilities.

The contingent liabilities of the Government as at March 31, 1988 amounted to $8,625 million and are summarized in the following table:

	(in millions of dollars)

There are another 89 (96 in 1987) similar cases, for which amounts are not stated in the claims, and for which it is not possible to determine the amounts that may be ultimately payable.

OPINION OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

I have examined the statement of assets and liabilities of the Government of Canada as at March 31, 1988 and the statements of revenue and expenditure and accumulated deficit, transactions, and use of appropriations for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary to enable me to report as required by Section 6 of the Auditor General Act.

In my opinion, these financial statements present information in accordance with the stated accounting policies of the Government of Canada as set out in Note 1 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year. Further, in my opinion, the statement of use of appropriations presents fairly a summary of appropriations available and used for the year ended March 31, 1988 in accordance with the accounting policies stated in Note 1(ix). However, in my opinion, because of the stated accounting policies that I consider inappropriate as outlined in Reservations 1, 2 and 3, the statements of assets and liabilities, revenue and expenditure and accumulated deficit, and transactions do not present fairly the financial position of the Government as at March 31, 1988 and the results of its operations and its financial requirements for the year then ended.

Reservation 1: Failure to Provide for Crown Corporation Borrowings

In accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1(vii), amounts receivable from sovereign states are not reduced in value unless a state has formally repudiated its debts. The Government has used this accounting policy in determining whether assets of agent Crown corporations have sufficient value to repay corporate borrowings. If borrowings exceed the corporations' ability to repay, a liability is recorded by the Government under the accounting policy in Note 1(i). The purpose of this policy is to recognize corporate borrowings that the Government will likely have to repay.

As described in Note 12, the Canadian Wheat Board, an agent Crown corporation, has borrowed $3.8 billion mainly to finance accounts receivable from sales of grain. The receivables include $3.2 billion from countries that are experiencing difficulties in repaying their debts. In my judgement, sound accounting practice requires that accounts receivable be reduced in value in circumstances where receipt is uncertain. I believe that the value of the Board's assets has been impaired by at least $1.3 billion, putting the Government at risk for at least this amount of Board borrowings. However, application of the accounting policy stated in Note 1(vii) does not permit this risk to be recognized because the countries that owe money to the Board have not formally repudiated their debts.

I believe that an appropriate allowance for Canadian Wheat Board borrowings should be recorded by the Government. If this were done, reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would be increased by at least $1.3 billion ($1.1 billion in 1987).

Reservation 2: Failure to Consolidate the Financial Statements of Crown Corporations

As described in Note 1(i), the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenditures reported in the separate financial statements of Crown corporations are excluded from the figures shown on the face of the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities, revenue and expenditure and accumulated deficit, and transactions of the Government of Canada. As a result, I believe that the Government's financial statements do not provide a comprehensive and complete summary of the full nature and extent of the financial affairs and resources for which the Government is responsible. The Government and the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants are conducting studies to determine the extent to which and how the separate financial statements of Crown corporations should be consolidated with those of the Government, and the alternative presentation that would be appropriate for any not consolidated.

Reservation 3: Unrecorded Liabilities

In accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1(v), financial obligations in respect of indexing employee pensions are not fully recorded in the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities, revenue and expenditure and accumulated deficit, and transactions of the Government of Canada. As disclosed in Note 11, if the full amount of these obligations had been recorded, reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would be increased by approximately $4.2 billion ($3.5 billion in 1987).

Additional information and comments on the financial statements and this opinion are included in my observations in Chapter 2 of my annual Report to Parliament.

BUDGETARY REVENUE

Budgetary revenue consists of all tax and non-tax receipts which affect the annual deficit or surplus of the Government. Revenue is generally reported in the year in which it is received, with refunds of revenue allocated to the year in which they are actually paid. Revenue is reported after deducting refunds paid and excludes amounts receivable, taxes collected on behalf of provinces and territories, and amounts credited to the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts, other specified purpose accounts, and other liability accounts.

Revenue for a fiscal year, therefore, includes receipts credited to the Receiver General by the Bank of Canada and the chartered banks by March 31st, and amounts received in Government offices by March 31st, but not deposited until April, or not credited to the Receiver General until April. Revenue also includes the amounts received in the mail on the first working day of April, except where it is clear that it was the remitter's intention to discharge an obligation arising in the new fiscal year.

The main factors affecting tax revenue are variations in economic conditions, changes in tax rates, and changes in the base on which taxes are calculated. Although a taxpayer's income tax liability relates to the income of a taxation year, advance collection of personal and corporation income taxes by payroll deductions and instalment payments result in a distribution of receipts throughout the year.

Budgetary Revenue in 1987-88

Total net budgetary revenue from outside parties (Table 3.1) increased by 13.6% or $11,668 million, to $97,452 million. Tax revenue, which accounts for over 90% of total revenue, increased by $10,869 million while non-tax revenue increased by $799 million.

The growth in total budgetary revenue in 1987-88 largely reflects the strong performance of the Canadian economy throughout 1987 which translated into significant employment and income gains, as well as increases in consumer and business expenditures. The impact of fiscal and cash management initiatives introduced in past budgets, particularly those relating to the acceleration of source deduction remittances and asset sales, also contributed to the growth in budgetary revenue.

Personal income tax revenue, which accounts for about 46.3% of budgetary revenue, increased by $7,247 million in 1987-88. Strong advances in employment, coupled with the impact of the source deduction acceleration initiative and a slower pace of refunds in 1987-88 than in 1986-87 were the most important factors contributing to the growth in personal income tax revenue. The source deduction acceleration initiative, announced in the February 1987 Budget and effective January 1, 1988, requires employers with average monthly remittances of $15,000 or more to remit source deductions (income taxes, CPP contributions and unemployment insurance premiums) on a twice-monthly basis, rather than just once a month as was previously the case. This acceleration of remittances had no impact on an individual taxpayer's liability. The impact of this initiative on personal income tax revenue resulted in a one-time increase, estimated at $1.2 billion, or about 17% of the total increase in personal income tax revenue in 1987-88. Ongoing impacts of past budget measures, designed in part to restore the yield from the tax system, also impacted on the 1987-88 results. These included: the restriction of the indexation of personal income tax exemptions and tax brackets to the annual increase in the Consumer Price Index that exceeds 3%, the 3% surtax on basic federal tax and the introduction of the minimum tax. The impact of these measures was partially offset by an increase in the disability deduction, increased deductions for residents of the North and certain isolated communities, the impact of increases in the refundable Child Tax Credit and the introduction of the refundable Sales Tax Credit.

Corporation income tax collections increased by 10% to $10,878 million in 1987-88. This increase primarily reflects the strong recovery in corporate profits, which rose by an estimated 25% in 1987. The impact of changes to the tax system introduced in past budgets also contributed to the increase in collections. These changes included: the elimination of the inventory allowance, the introduction of a 3% surtax on federal income tax payable by all corporations and a reduction in the rate of the general investment tax credits. However, the impact of the strong growth in corporate profits and tax increasing measures was offset to a considerable extent by the application of unused losses and deductions, the reduction in statutory tax rates and the extension of the refundability provisions of the investment tax credit.

In 1987-88, unemployment insurance contributions increased 9.1%, reaching a level of $10,425 million. The increase was due to the strong gains in employment throughout 1987 and an increase in the level of insurable earnings and the impact of the twice-monthly remittance of source deductions by large employers. Premium rates, which under the Unemployment Insurance Act, could have been increased in 1987, have remained unchanged since 1985.

Sales and excise taxes and duties increased $1,892 million, or 9% to $22,941 million in 1987-88. The increase in 1987-88 is largely due to the strength in consumer and business spending in 1987 and to the January 1, 1987 and April 1, 1987 increases in the excise tax on gasoline, aviation gas and diesel fuel. In addition, changes in the method of computing the motive fuel tax, designed to improve compliance and administration, the broadening of the sale tax base to include a wide range of snack foods and an increase in the specific excise taxes and duties on cigarettes and other tobacco products, contributed to increase sales and excise tax revenues. However, the impact of these factors was significantly dampened by the effect of other discretionary factors. These included: the final round of tariff rate reductions as specified under the 1979 Multilateral Trade Negotiations Agreement, reductions in the quarterly indexation factor applied to the federal sales tax rate for gasoline and diesel fuel and the elimination, effective October 1, 1986, of the Petroleum and Gas Revenue Tax.

Non-tax revenue increased 13.5% to $6,714 million in 1987-88. Over one-half of the increase was attributable to the sale of Teleglobe Canada, while the remainder reflects increased Exchange Fund Account profits and the effect of other various cash management initiatives.

Revenue by Main Classification and Source

Table 3.1 presents revenue by main classification and source on both a gross and net basis and segregates revenue internal to the Government from revenue received from outside parties. The difference between gross and net revenue is revenue credited to appropriations.

In this table, revenue from outside parties represents revenue received from organizations and individuals outside the Government of Canada as an accounting entity while revenue internal to the Government represents revenue generated from transactions between organizations within the accounting entity. The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume.

Revenue credited to appropriations represents revenue that has been credited to expenditure rather than to revenue where authority has been granted by Parliament.

"Total net revenue" represents all budgetary revenue recorded in the accounts of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government. "Total gross revenue" is derived by adding to "Total net revenue" all "Revenue credited to appropriations".

Tax Revenue

The major tax changes which had an effect on the tax revenue for 1987-88 are described at the beginning of this section under the caption "Budgetary Revenue in 1987-88".

Personal Income Tax

This tax is levied on personal income under the provisions of the Income Tax Act.

In 1987-88, personal income tax was the largest source of Government revenue. It amounted to $45,125 million, or 46% of total net revenue.

Corporation Income Tax

This tax is levied on corporation income under the provisions of the Income Tax Act.

Corporation income tax amounted to $10,878 million in 1987-88, or 11% of total net revenue.

Unemployment Insurance Contributions

This account records the contributions from employers and employees to the Unemployment Insurance Account.

Non-Resident Income Tax

The non-resident income tax is levied on the income earned in Canada by non-residents. It is derived from tax withheld from dividends, interest, rents, royalties, alimony, and income from estates and trusts, paid to non-residents. It amounted to $1,162 million in 1987-88, or 1% of total net revenue.

Excise Taxes and Duties

Excise taxes and duties totalled $22,941 million in 1987-88, or 24% of total net revenue.

Sales tax

The sales tax, totalling $12,927 million in 1987-88, was the most important tax levied under the Excise Tax Act.

Customs import duties

The revenues from customs import duties, consisting mainly of ad valorem taxes on the importation of goods, totalled $4,385 million in 1987-88.

Excise duties

Excise duties, which totalled $1,459 million in 1987-88, are levied on alcoholic beverages (other than wines) and tobacco products. (Additional taxes on tobacco products and taxes on wines are levied under the Excise Tax Act.)

Excise tax—Gasoline

Net receipts from the excise tax—Gasoline were $2,286 million in 1987-88. Under certain conditions, the amounts received may be refunded to purchasers. As of March 31, 1988, $2,340 million was received, and $54 million was refunded and charged to revenue.

Petroleum and gas revenue tax

The petroleum and gas revenue tax came into effect on January 1, 1981, and was applicable to net operating revenues related to the production of oil and gas. The petroleum and gas revenue tax was eliminated effective October 1, 1986.

Aviation gas and diesel fuel

This tax, which came into effect during 1985-86, is imposed on diesel fuel and aviation turbo fuel.

Natural gas and gas liquids tax

This tax, which came into effect during 1980-81, was imposed on all sales of natural gas and gas liquids. It was eliminated effective June 1, 1985.

Oil export charges

Oil export charges were collected in respect of oil produced in, and exported from, provinces.

The oil export charges were eliminated effective June 1, 1985.

Canadian Ownership special charge

This special charge was levied to increase public ownership of the oil and gas industry in Canada. It was eliminated effective June 1, 1985.

Non-Tax Revenue

Return on Investments

Return on investments consists mainly of interest from loans and advances, transfer of profits and surpluses, and rental income from properties.

Return on investments is summarized in Table 3.2. Commencing in 1986-87, the presentation of this table has been changed to agree the total ministerial return on investments amount as reported in Table 6 in Section 1 of Volume II (Part I) to the amount as reported in Table 3.1. The reconciling items include the Exchange Fund Account adjustment to recognize the international reserves held in the Account, and the interest on loans to the Unemployment Insurance Account and the Western Grain Stabilization Account. The return on investments internal to the Government has been deducted from the total net return on investments to obtain the total net return on investments from outside parties. Revenue credited to appropriations from outside parties has been added to the latter to obtain total gross return on investments from outside parties.

Proceeds from Sales

Proceeds from sales totalled $638 million in 1987-88. Of this amount, $509 million results from the Government's policy of privatization.

In accordance with its policy of privatization, the Government sold to the private sector all or part of the share capital or assets of a number of Crown and other corporations. The proceeds from these sales were included in non-tax revenue and relate to transactions occurring in 1987-88 except where otherwise disclosed. Table 3.3 presents the proceeds from sales resulting from the privatization.

[1] An amount of $104 million was received during the year from Fishery Products International Limited in consideration for the assets of 125459 Canada Limited, its parent corporation established for the purpose of restructuring the Newfoundland fishery. Such assets were valued on the books of the Government at $167 million. The difference, $63 million, was charged to expenditure with no impact on the deficit, since this amount had been previously fully provided for in the Government's allowance for loans, investments and advances.

[2] When privatized, the Government received a total of $611 million from Teleglobe Canada, Memotec Data Inc. as well as from its subsidiary Teleglobe Canada Inc. From total proceeds, $129 million represented corporate income taxes from the latter two companies as a result of the sale and $37 million was applied to cover contingency and selling costs. An amount of approximately $20 million has yet to be recorded. The balance of $423 million was credited to non-tax revenue.

[3] Prior to its sale, Canadair Limited declared and paid a dividend of $57 million to the Canada Development Investment Corporation (CDIC) which was subsequently remitted to the Government in the current fiscal year.

[4] The amount of $26 million represents the difference between the proceeds from the sale of $120 million and the cost to the Government's remaining 8,886,434 shares, which were recorded at $94 million.

[5] The amount of $3 million represents the sale of this Corporation's warrants which were acquired by CDIC as a result of the 1986 reorganization of Massey Ferguson.

ESTIMATES AND APPROPRIATIONS

Parliamentary Spending Authorities

The Government submits its spending proposals to Parliament in the annual Estimates. During the year, the Government may request further appropriations. The initial request is called the "Main Estimates" and additional requests are called "Supplementary Estimates". With these Estimates, the Government requests authority for that part of the proposed spending which is not already provided by other statutes. The amounts making up the total of such proposed spending are authorized in appropriation acts and are generally referred to as "annual" authorities. The balance of the planned spending is made under authority of other statutes which authorize disbursements for specified purposes, and for such amounts and time periods as are set by those acts. The proposed or estimated uses of most of these "statutory" authorities for the current year are included in the Estimates for information purposes; however, they are not included in appropriation acts because they have already been authorized by Parliament.

Annual authorities, with few exceptions, lapse at the end of the year if not used, while statutory authorities, with few exceptions, are carried forward to future years. Those authorities which extend to subsequent years are referred to as "non-lapsing".

Both the budgetary expenditure amounts and the non-budgetary requirements for loans, investments and advances are included under each type of spending authority, annual and statutory.

Table 4.1 presents, for the year ended March 31, 1988, a summary of parliamentary spending authorities requested and approved (annual authority), and estimated uses of authorities already granted (statutory authority).

A Statement of Use of Appropriations by ministry, as examined by the Auditor General, is presented in Section 2 of this volume. Additional details on the use of appropriations by ministry and by type (annual and statutory) are given in Section 1 (Table 3) of Volume II (Part I), and in the ministerial sections of the same volume.

Source and Disposition of Authorities—Annual and Statutory Budgetary appropriations provide spending authority for those transactions which enter into the calculation of the annual deficit or surplus of the Government. Non-budgetary appropriations provide spending authority for all transactions which result in the acquisition or disposal of loans, investments and advances. Balances of appropriations brought forward from the previous years are available for spending, together with current increases to such authorities.

The totals of these authorities are reduced by the amount of their current year use to determine the balances which lapse, are overexpended or are carried forward to future years, depending upon the type of authority. In cases where the spending of loan repayments is authorized, the non-budgetary spending is reported net of such repayments.

Table 4.2 presents details of the total available parliamentary spending authorities. They include authorities available from previous years, parliamentary spending authorities as per Table 4.1 and various adjustments which are explained in the notes to the table.

Table 4.3 presents a summary of the source and disposition of authorities by type (annual and statutory) for the year ended March 31, 1988.

Further ministerial details are presented in Section 1 (Table 3) of Volume II (Part I).

BUDGETARY EXPENDITURE

Budgetary expenditure consists of all charges to budgetary appropriations which affect the annual deficit or surplus of the Government. Such charges include those for work performed, goods received, services rendered, and transfer payments made, during the year and in the supplementary period including accounts payable at year end. In addition, budgetary expenditure may also include charges related to the provision for valuation of loans, investments and advances, the allowance for borrowings of agent Crown corporations, and accounts payable and other allowances related to statutory items and annual appropriations. As well, net expenditures of the Unemployment Insurance Account, the Western Grain Stabilization Account, the Crop Reinsurance Fund, the Agricultural Commodities Stabilization Accounts and other specified purpose accounts are also included.

Expenditure excludes amounts charged to the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts, other specified purpose accounts, and other liability accounts.

Budgetary Expenditure in 1987-88

Total net budgetary expenditure with outside parties increased 7.9% to $125,535 million compared to an increase of 4.6% in 1986-87. Most of the acceleration in the rate of growth was attributable to higher public debt charges and the impact of the low grain prices on farm incomes which has resulted in increased payments under various farm income support programs and additional assistance under the Special Canadian Grains programs.

Public debt charges, which account for 23.1% of total Government spending, rose $2,370 million, or 8.9%, to $29,028 million in 1987-88. The increase in public debt charges largely reflects the higher stock of debt as interest rates were marginally lower.

Total program expenditures — that is — total Government spending excluding public debt charges — increased 7.6% to $96,507 million. Major contributors to the increase in program spending included increased subsidy payments to farmers, higher old age security benefits, increased fiscal transfers to provinces and higher expenditures on defence and foreign assistance. Dampening the overall increase in program spending was the impact of the various restraint measures that the Government has introduced since November 1984. These included the phasing-out and reduction of various expenditure programs, limits on indexation, reductions in the number of person-years and other actions taken to control direct operating costs.

The Social Development envelope accounts for about 60% of program spending. A large portion of spending in this envelope is formula-funded or demand-driven, with changes reflecting developments in economic activity and the underlying population bases. In 1987-88, spending increased by 3.8% to $56,636 million. Nearly one-half of the increase was due to higher old age security benefits, reflecting increases in the eligible population and in the level of benefits which are indexed to quarterly changes in the consumer price index. Other major contributors included increased assistance to the various housing programs and higher transfers to provinces under the Canada Assistance Plan. In contrast, the strength in the economy and the accompanying improvements in the labour market situation restrained the growth in unemployment insurance benefits. Although total entitlements under Established Programs Financing increased by about 5%, the strength in the economy and the accompanying effect on tax bases resulted in an increase in the value of tax points, which moderated the growth in direct cash transfers.

The largest increase occurred in the Economic and Regional Development envelope. After recording declines in both 1985-86 and 1986-87, spending in this envelope increased by 20.7% to $14,232 million in 1987-88. Most of the increase was due to higher expenditures under the various agricultural assistance programs, triggered by the sharp drop in world grain prices largely provoked by the subsidy conflict between the United States and the European Economic Community countries. Substantially higher payouts were made under the Western Grain Stabilization Act. In addition, the Government introduced in 1986 the Special Canadian Grains Program as an income support program to farmers hard hit by the lower grain prices. For the 1986 and 1987 crop years, total payments amounted to $2.1 billion of which $1.5 billion was paid in fiscal year 1987-88. In addition, increased payments were also made under the Western Grain Transportation Act. Dampening the impact of these increases was the continuing impact of the elimination and phase-out of various energy-related programs as prescribed under the Western Energy Accord. Payments under the Petroleum Incentives Program declined $794 million to $154 million, while a surplus of $60 million was recorded in the Petroleum Compensation Account.

The Fiscal Arrangements envelope increased by 11.2% to $7,007 million, largely due to a large increase in equalization payments. This largely reflects the impact of robust economic growth on overall provincial revenues which had the effect of raising the five-province standard used in the equalization formula.

The External Affairs and Aid envelope rose by 18.9%. This increase largely reflects Canada's commitment to increase its Official Development Assistance disbursements at 0.5% of Gross National Product.

National Defence expenditures rose by $776 million, or 7.8%, to $10,769 million. This growth reflects Canada's commitment to its NATO allies, to increase defence spending by 2% per year in real terms, while the services to Government envelope advanced by 5.5% in 1987-88.

Expenditure by Envelope

The increasing complexity of Government responsibilities and the limited resources available to meet those responsibilities led to the Policy and Expenditure Management System (PEMS). Under this system, the Government manages the resources available to it by "envelope". Each envelope represents the resources allocated to a particular policy sector for all elements of ministerial spending relating to that sector.

Expenditure by Envelope and Source

Table 5.1 presents expenditure by envelope and source. The table is presented on both a gross and a net basis and segregates expenditure with outside parties from expenditure internal to the Government. The difference between gross and net expenditure is revenue credited to appropriations.

In this table, expenditure with outside parties represents expenditure incurred as a result of transactions with organizations and individuals outside the Government of Canada as an accounting entity while expenditure internal to the Government represents expenditure incurred as a result of transactions between organizations within the accounting entity. The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume.

Revenue credited to appropriations represents revenue that has been credited to budgetary expenditure rather than budgetary revenue where such authority has been granted by Parliament.

"Total net expenditure" represents all budgetary expenditure recorded in the accounts of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government. "Total gross expenditure" is derived by adding to "Total net expenditure" all "Revenue credited to appropriations".

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENTS

Public Debt Charges

Public debt charges include interest on unmatured debt (including Canada and Treasury bills), on specified purpose accounts and on other accounts, cost of issuing new loans, amortization of bond discounts, premiums and commissions, and the costs of servicing the public debt.

The increase of $1,777 million in public debt charges related to unmatured debt is commensurate with an increase in the debt, which rose from $229,491 million at March 31, 1987 to $252,058 million at March 31, 1988. The increase of $591 million in public debt charges related to specified purpose accounts was due mainly to an increase in the balances of superannuation accounts.

A comparative summary of public debt charges is presented in Table 5.3. Commencing in 1986-87, changes in the presentation of the table have been made in order to disclose in greater detail the consolidated specified purpose accounts and the reconciling items between total public debt charges as reported in the Finance ministerial section (Section 10) of Volume II (Part I) and the total net expenditure of the public debt envelope as per Table 5.1. The reconciling items include the expenditure of the consolidated specified purpose accounts. Expenditure internal to the Government has been deducted from the total net expenditure of the public debt envelope to obtain the total net expenditure with outside parties. Since no portion of revenue credited to appropriations applies to the public debt envelope, the total gross public debt envelope is identical to the total net public debt envelope.

Expenditure under Statutory Authority

The spending authority provided by statutory appropriations is for specified purposes and for such amounts and such time as the acts prescribe. This spending authority does not generally lapse at the end of the year in which it is granted. Expenditure under such authority accounts for more than half of the total net expenditure each year.

Table 5.4 presents a comparative summary of these statutory expenditures. Commencing in 1986-87, changes in the presentation of the table have been made in order to disclose the reconciling items between the total ministerial expenditure under statutory authority and the total net statutory expenditure. The reconciling items include the statutory expenditure of the consolidated specified purpose accounts and the provision for valuation. Expenditure internal to the Government has been deducted from the total net statutory expenditure to obtain the total net statutory expenditure with outside parties. Revenue credited to appropriations from outside parties has been added to the latter to obtain the total gross statutory expenditure with outside parties.

CONSOLIDATED SPECIFIED PURPOSE ACCOUNTS

Consolidated specified purpose accounts are categories of budgetary revenue and expenditure which report transactions of certain accounts where enabling legislation requires that revenues be earmarked, and that related payments and expenditures be charged against such revenues. Such accounts collect primarily receipts of a tax nature, and include: the Unemployment Insurance Account, the Canadian Ownership Account, the Western Grain Stabilization Account, the Crop Reinsurance Fund, the Agricultural Commodities Stabilization Accounts and other specified purpose accounts.

In the past, earmarked revenues were credited to non-budgetary accounts, with related offsetting payments and expenditures charged thereto. Commencing with 1985-86 (1984-85 for the Canadian Ownership Account), the transactions of these accounts are reported with budgetary revenue and expenditure, in order to provide a more comprehensive reporting of the Government's operating results.

Further, enabling legislation requires that the transactions in each of these accounts be accounted for separately. Table 6.1 presents a summary of the balances and transactions of these accounts, in the manner required by legislation. The term "account without current transactions" has been included in this table, to show the net result of transactions in one account which was closed out in the previous year.

The financial statements of the Unemployment Insurance Account, together with the Auditor General's report thereon, are presented at the end of this section.

Unemployment Insurance Account

The Unemployment Insurance Act provides for a compulsory contributory unemployment insurance program applicable to all employees, with few exceptions.

The Act authorizes an account in the accounts of Canada to be known as the Unemployment Insurance Account.

The Act provides that the following be credited to the Account: (a) premiums, fines, penalties and interest; (b) Government share of benefits paid; (c) refunds of overpayments of benefits, and benefit repayments; (d) amounts for services rendered to other Government departments or agencies, or to the public; (e) amounts provided for any other purpose related to unemployment insurance and authorized by an appropriation administered by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission; and, (f) interest on the balance of the Account at such rates as the Minister of Finance may authorize. The Act also provides that the following be charged to the Account: (a) benefits paid under the Act; (b) costs of administering the Act; and (c) interest on advances made by the Minister of Finance.

Maximum weekly employee premiums were $12.46 from April 1, 1987 to December 31, 1987 and $13.28 from January 1, 1988 to March 31, 1988. For the same periods, maximum weekly benefits were $318 from April 1, 1987 to December 31, 1987 and $339 from January 1, 1988 to March 31, 1988.

Interest-bearing loans are made to the Unemployment Insurance Account, under Section 137(1) of the Unemployment Insurance Act, as a result of deficiencies in contributions from employers and employees. The balance outstanding as at March 31, 1988 bears interest at rates between 7.595% and 8.935% per annum, and is repayable between February 28, 1989 and March 31, 1990.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $10,425 million ($9,558 million in 1987) are reported as revenue, while payments and other charges of $11,206 million ($11,257 million in 1987) are reported as expenditure.

Receipts and other credits of $3,122 million ($5,987 million in 1987) and payments and other charges of $2,286 million ($4,473 million in 1987), internal to the operations of the Government, have been eliminated in order to present transactions with outside parties, only.

Canadian Ownership Account

This account was established under the authority of Energy, Mines and Resources Vote 5c, Appropriation Act No 4, 1980-81. The account was credited with amounts received from the Canadian Ownership special charge levied to increase public ownership of the oil and gas industry in Canada.

The special charge was cancelled due to deregulation on June 1, 1985. Therefore, any transactions since then are as a result of adjustments due to audits.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $6 million (–$1 million in 1987) are reported as revenue.

Western Grain Stabilization Account

The purpose of the Western Grain Stabilization Act is to protect prairie grain producers from unexpected and large income declines, through the stabilization of returns on the production and sale of wheat, oats, barley, rye, mustard seed, canola and flax seed as well as any other seed that may be prescribed which is: (a) produced in the designated area and, (b) named in Schedule 1 to the Canada Grain Act and designated therein as "Canada Western".

This account records funds for this purpose which are received from:

(a) levies paid by participating producers—Ranging from 1% to 2½% of grain sales proceeds to an annual maximum of $60,000 eligible proceeds per participant;

(b) Government contributions equal to levies paid by producers plus an additional 2% of the participating eligible grain sales proceeds of all participants;

(c) interest on the amount standing to the credit of the Account, at rates and in accordance with terms and conditions determined by the Minister of Finance; and,

(d) advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund when the balance in the Account is not sufficient for the payment of stabilization payments and other amounts required to be charged to the Account pursuant to Section 43 of the Western Grain Stabilization Act.

During the year, the Account was advanced $1,505,237,099. Interest on each advance is calculated quarterly at the rate in respect of borrowings by Crown corporations having a one year amortization period. The repayment period for each advance shall not exceed a term of one year.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $30 million ($25 million in 1987) are reported as revenue, while payments and other charges of $1,396 million ($855 million in 1987), are reported as expenditure.

Receipts and other credits of $1,597 million ($77 million in 1987), and payments and other charges of $95 million (nil in 1987), internal to the operations of the Government, have been eliminated in order to present transactions with outside parties, only.

Crop Reinsurance Fund

This Fund, established by Section 5(1) of the Crop Insurance Act, provides insurance to participating provinces for costs they incur in operating various crop insurance schemes.

The revenue of the Fund comes from moneys paid by the provinces for the purpose of reinsurance and the expenditure of the Fund are moneys paid to the provinces under the terms of reinsurance agreements.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $39 million ($54 million in 1987) are reported as revenue, while payments and other charges of $1 million ($287 million in 1987) are reported as expenditure.

Agricultural Commodities Stabilization Accounts

The purpose of these accounts is to reduce income loss to producers from market risks through stabilizing prices. Premiums are shared equally by the Government of Canada, the governments of participating provinces and participating producers. These premiums should equal the total paid over time. There are several active accounts as follows:

(a) hogs;

(b) slaughter cattle;

(c) feeder calves;

(d) lambs;

(e) apples;

(f) white beans;

(g) other dry edible beans; and,

(h) sugar beets.

These accounts were established in the accounts of Canada, pursuant to Section 10.2 of the Agricultural Stabilization Act.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $75 million ($47 million in 1987) are reported as revenue, while payments and other charges of $3 million ($4 million in 1987) are reported as expenditure.

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENT

Canada Employment and Immigration Commission relating to the Unemployment Insurance Account

AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MINISTER OF EMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION

I have examined the balance sheet of the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission relating to the Unemployment Insurance Account as at December 31, 1987 and the statement of revenue, expenses and deficit for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Commission relating to the Unemployment Insurance Account as at December 31, 1987 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

1. Authority and objective

The Canada Employment and Immigration Commission, a departmental corporation named in Schedule B to the Financial Administration Act, administers the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971 as amended. The objective of the Act is to provide short-term financial relief and other assistance to eligible workers. The financial transactions relating to this objective are reported through the Unemployment Insurance Account.

In the accounts of Canada, the Unemployment Insurance Account was established by Section 131 of the Act. All amounts received under the Act are deposited in the Consolidated Revenue Fund and credited to this Account. Benefits and the cost of administration of the Act are paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and charged to this Account.

Under Part IV of the Act, the Minister of National Revenue is responsible for collecting premiums from employers and employees.

2. Accounting policies

(a) Premiums

The premiums are recorded based on an estimate of the amount to be collected in the current year and include adjustments between actual and estimated premiums of prior years.

(b) Penalties

Penalties, levied pursuant to Section 47 of the Act, are recorded on an accrual basis.

(c) Benefits

Benefits represent the warrants issued during the year less benefit overpayments established by the Commission during the year and benefit repayments estimated to be receivable under Section 142 of the Act including adjustments between actual and estimated repayments of prior years.

(d) Administration

The costs of administration of the Act are determined by the Unemployment Insurance Regulations and are charged to the Account by the Commission.

(e) Interest

Interest on the balance of the account with Receiver General for Canada and interest on advances from Canada are recorded on an accrual basis.

(f) Government's share of benefits

The government's share of benefits is recorded on an accrual basis.

Uncollectable benefit overpayments and penalties written-off during the year under authority of Section 60(2) of the Regulations amounted to $5.9 million (1986—$6.4 million).

5. Advances from Canada

Advances from Canada are made under Section 137 of the Act and the Unemployment Insurance Account Advance Regulations, by means of promissory notes which bear annual interest compounded semi-annually at rates varying from 7.595% to 8.125%. The balance as at December 31 consists of:

	1987	1986
	(in thousands of dollars)

1988		342,000

Accrued interest	96,506	458,224
	2,238,506	3,549,224

6. Overpayments and underpayments of benefits

The large number of claimants to be monitored and the requirement for prompt service require selective internal control procedures rather than universal and therefore the verification of claims is mainly done after claimants have begun to receive benefits.

As a result, overpayments and underpayments of benefits exist which the Commission estimated at $342 million ($316 million in 1986) and $101 million ($123 million in 1986) respectively. These amounts are included in the benefits for the year.

7. Contingent liabilities

In the normal course of the operations of the Unemployment Insurance Account, certain appeals against or by the Commission are presently outstanding. In the opinion of management, the result of these appeals will not have a significant impact on the operations of the Unemployment Insurance Account.

Extended benefits paid under Section 35 of the Act are benefits paid to claimants who have exhausted their initial benefits (and labour force extended benefits, if they are entitled) and who reside in a region where the regional unemployment rate exceeds four per cent.

Extended benefits under Subsections 38(8) and 39(3) of the Act are benefits paid to claimants on job creation projects or training courses and whose entitlements are not enough to cover the duration of the project or course plus an additional maximum of three weeks of entitlement after the projects or courses end.

LOANS, INVESTMENTS AND ADVANCES

Loans, investments and advances is a category of financial claims represented by debt instruments and ownership interests held by the Government of Canada, acquired through the use of parliamentary appropriations. Some of these appropriations permit repayments to be used for further loans and advances. Many appropriations are non-lapsing, that is, unexpended balances may be carried forward from year to year. Details of the use of non-budgetary appropriations, for loans, investments and advances, can be found in the ministerial sections of Volume II (Part I).

Loans, investments and advances are recorded at cost and are subject to valuation to reflect estimated losses on realization. Foreign currency transactions are translated and recorded in Canadian dollar equivalents at the exchange rates prevailing at the transaction dates. Loans, investments and advances resulting from foreign currency transactions are, in turn, reported at year-end closing rates of exchange; net gains are credited to revenue as premium and discount on exchange, while net losses are charged to budgetary expenditure of the Department of Finance.

The allowance established to reflect estimated losses on realization of financial claims held by the Government has been authorized by the Minister of Finance and the President of the Treasury Board, under Section 54(2)(b) of the Financial Administration Act.

Revenue received during the year on loans, investments and advances, is credited to return on investments; details are given in Section 11 of Volume II (Part II). In accordance with stated accounting policies, accrued interest and interest due but not received are not reported as revenue. Table 7.20 gives details of recorded uncollected interest.

Transactions and year-end balances of loans, investments and advances are presented as follows:

—Crown corporations;

—provincial and territorial governments;

—national governments including developing countries;

—international organizations;

—Veterans' Land Act Fund advances;

—joint and mixed enterprises; and,

—miscellaneous.

Transactions and balances are further summarized in Sections 1 and 2 of this volume. In addition, Table 7.19 summarizes transactions by type.

Some tables in this section present the continuity of accounts, by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts and other credits, and payments and other charges. In addition, the term "account(s) without current transactions" has been included in some tables, to show the net result of transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

CROWN CORPORATIONS

Loans and advances to, and investments in, Crown corporations represent the balance of financial claims held by the Government against corporations for working capital, capital expenditure and other purposes, investment in the capital stock of corporations, and loans and advances to corporations for re-lending.

A Crown corporation means a parent Crown corporation or a wholly-owned subsidiary; a parent Crown corporation is wholly-owned directly by the Crown; a wholly-owned subsidiary is wholly-owned by one or more parent Crown corporations directly or indirectly through any number of subsidiaries each of which is wholly-owned directly or indirectly by one or more parent Crown corporations. These include the corporations listed in Parts I and II of Schedule C of the Financial Administration Act, the Bank of Canada, the Canada Council, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Canadian Film Development Corporation, the Canadian Institute for International Peace and Security, the Canadian Wheat Board, the International Development Research Centre, and the National Arts Centre Corporation.

A Crown corporation is ultimately accountable to Parliament, through a minister of the Crown, for the conduct of its affairs. Most of the Crown corporations listed in the schedules to the Financial Administration Act are agents of Her Majesty in right of Canada. This status is granted in one of the following ways:

(i) designation by Parliament, through a special act of incorporation;
(ii) statutory authorization; and,
(iii) proclamation by the Government Companies Operation Act.

Financial statements of parent Crown corporations can be found in Volume III of the Public Accounts. The financial statements of wholly-owned subsidiaries of Crown corporations are also included in that volume whenever their accounts are not consolidated with those of the parent corporation. These financial statements are appended to those of the related parent Crown corporation.

Lending Institutions

Table 7.2 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the various types of loans, investments and advances which were made to Crown corporations whose primary activity is to provide financial assistance.

Summary Financial Statements of Crown Corporations

Table 7.4 presents summary combined financial statements as at March 31, 1988 of the Crown corporations named in Section 96 or Schedule C of the Financial Administration Act. Table 7.5 displays the assets and liabilities and Table 7.6 the revenues, expenses and changes in equity of each corporation. For those corporations with March 31 year ends, the data are based on audited financial statements. For those corporations having other year ends, the data are based on unaudited interim financial statements which have been prepared on a basis consistent with the most recent audited financial statements.

The Crown corporations have been grouped in five segments. The category of competitive, self-sustaining corporations consists of those corporations named in Schedule C Part II of the Financial Administration Act.

The tables summarize the financial transactions and results of operations of each Crown corporation in accordance with its own respective accounting policies. Most Crown corporations follow the generally accepted accounting principles used by private sector companies, as outlined in the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

Financial assets include cash, receivables, loans and investments. Physical assets and deferred charges represent the unexpensed portion of non-financial assets such as buildings, machinery and equipment in use or under construction, inventories and other items of expenditure which will be expensed as these assets are used. Financial assets and liabilities in respect of the Government and other Crown corporations represent the unpaid balances arising from financing transactions and normal operating activities. Borrowings from outside parties represent amounts repayable to institutional and other investors. Other liabilities are amounts due in respect of purchases, employee termination and pension benefits, accrued interest on borrowings, long-term capital leases and sundry accounts payable. Net assets/liabilities represent the Government's equity in each Crown corporation as reported by that corporation.

Revenues include financial assistance received or receivable from the Government in respect of the current year's operations. Other net changes in equity include dividends declared, transfers of profits to the Government and non-current financial assistance provided by the Government.

Crown corporations are defined to include either parent Crown corporations or wholly-owned subsidiaries. A wholly-owned subsidiary is wholly-owned by one or more parent Crown corporations. These tables present consolidated financial information on parent Crown corporations and financial information on unconsolidated wholly-owned subsidiaries. Volume III of the Public Accounts includes a complete list of all parent Crown corporations, wholly-owned subsidiaries, other subsidiaries and associates.

Crown corporations are also categorized as being either agents or non-agents of the Crown. Agency status may be expressly stated in the incorporating legislation or conferred under the provisions of the Government Companies Operation Act. In accordance with Section 45 of the Financial Administration Act, the payment of all money borrowed by agent Crown corporations and interest thereon is a charge on and payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund. Such borrowings therefore constitute obligations of the Government and are recorded as such in the summary financial statements of Canada net of borrowings expected to be repaid directly by these corporations. The gross amounts of such borrowings are included under "Liabilities, Outside Parties". A summary of such borrowings and the changes during the year ended March 31, 1988 is presented in Table 7.7.

Borrowings by non-agent Crown corporations are not, in law, obligations of the Government. However, when the Government expressly guarantees such borrowings, they become potential obligations of the Government. Such guarantees amounted to $0.7 million as at March 31, 1988. A summary of borrowing transactions by non-agent Crown corporations is presented in Table 7.8. The maturity of all Crown corporations' borrowings is presented in Table 7.9. Contingent liabilities of Crown corporations are presented in Table 7.10.

A summary of financial assistance under Government budgetary appropriations to Crown corporations for the year ended March 31, 1988 is provided in Table 7.11. Differences in figures reported in Table 7.6 and those reported in Table 7.11 result from the use of different accounting policies and from items in transit.

[1] This column records only that portion of financial assistance received or receivable from the federal Government that has been credited to operations. A further amount of $518,035 has been capitalized by the corporations and is included in "Other net changes in equity". Revenues "Other" include amounts generated from the sale of goods or services, investment income as well as grants where the corporation qualifies as a member of a general class of recipients. The total financial assistance accounted for by the corporations during the year does not agree with the amounts reported in Table 7.11 because of different accounting policies and items in transit.

Borrowings by Agent Crown Corporations

Table 7.7 summarizes the borrowing transactions by agent Crown corporations made on behalf of Her Majesty. This information is published to satisfy Section 40 of the Financial Administration Act (FAA) which requires that "An annual statement of all borrowing transactions on behalf of Her Majesty shall be included in the Public Accounts". The borrowings are from other than the Government. In accordance with Section 45 of the FAA, the payment of all money borrowed by agent Crown corporations and interest thereon is a charge on and payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund. Such borrowings therefore constitute obligations of the Government and are recorded as such in the summary financial statements of Canada net of borrowings expected to be repaid directly by these corporations. As at March 31, 1988, an allowance for borrowings expected to be repaid by the Government was established at $450 million.

Borrowings by non-agent Crown corporations are not included in this table because such borrowings are not on behalf of Her Majesty. Table 7.8 provides information on borrowings of such corporations.

Table 7.13 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the loans and advances that were made to national governments including developing countries.

Jamaica—Economic assistance

A loan has been made to the Government of Jamaica, to provide economic assistance. The maturity date under the April 20, 1985 loan agreement was August 9, 1989. The applicable interest rate for payments due between August 9, 1985 and August 9, 1989 is 13.375% per annum.

The loan agreement has been amended by the following Rescheduling Agreements dated:

(a) August 9, 1984, which provided for the deferment of one half of the interest payment due on August 9, 1984;

(b) October 18, 1985, which provided for the deferment of the principal repayment and one half of the interest payment due on August 9, 1985; and,

(c) June 4, 1987, which provided for the deferment of principal repayments and 85% of the interest payments that were due on August 9, 1986 and August 9, 1987.

Interest rates on the above Rescheduling Agreements vary between 9.385% and 13.5% per annum, and repayments of the deferred amounts are scheduled between 1989 and 1997.

United Kingdom

The United Kingdom Financial Agreement Act, 1946

Under authority of the United Kingdom Financial Agreement Act, a credit of $1,250,000,000 was extended to the Government of the United Kingdom to facilitate purchases by the United Kingdom of goods and services in Canada and to assist the United Kingdom in meeting transitional post-war deficits in its current balance of payments, in maintaining adequate reserves of gold and dollars, and in assuming the obligations of multilateral trade. The amount of the credit drawn by December 31, 1951 was to be repaid in 50 annual instalments beginning on that date, with interest at the rate of 2% per annum, with the final instalment on December 31, 2000.

Deferred principal

The agreement, as amended in 1957, provides for the deferment of interest in respect of the year 1956 and of seven instalments of principal and interest after December 31, 1956, under certain conditions. Interest for 1956, and interest and principal for 1957, 1964, 1965, 1968 and 1976 were deferred. The maturity of the deferrals is to commence December 31, 2001, and continue until December 31, 2006.

Developing countries—International development assistance

Loan assistance has been made to developing countries for international development assistance. Commencing April 1, 1986, loans under negotiated loan agreements in existence at March 31, 1986 were made under various budgetary authorities (including External Affairs Vote 30, Appropriation Acts No 1 and No 3, 1987-88). Previous to this date, all loans to developing countries were paid under non-budgetary authority.

During the year, the forgiveness of Certain Official Development Assistance Debts Act authorized the forgiveness of official development assistance debts owing by the Government of Togo, the Government of the Islamic Republic of Mauritania and the governments of the United Republic of Tanzania, of the Republic of Uganda and of Kenya as former members of the East African Community. This Act has not yet been proclaimed into force.

The following table presents the balances and transactions for the loans made to developing countries, together with their terms and conditions of repayments. The closing balance of loans to individual countries includes, where applicable, total payments made under both budgetary and non-budgetary authorities. The total budgetary payments to all countries are deducted as a lump sum amount under the caption "Payments made under budgetary authority" at the end of the table to arrive at the amount reported in Table 7.13 as international development assistance to developing countries.

(2) Joint project involving Kenya, Tanzania and Uganda.
(3) Joint project involving Mali and Senegal.

Similar assistance has been provided to developing countries by way of subscriptions to the capital of the International Development Association and loans to other international financial institutions. These are reported later in this section under the heading "International organizations".

Development of export trade

Pursuant to Section 31 of the Export Development Act, the Governor in Council may authorize the Corporation to make loans to foreign customers where the liability is for a term, or in an amount in excess of that normally assumed by the Corporation. Such loans are financed directly by payments out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and are administered by the Corporation on behalf of the Government of Canada.

Commencing April 1, 1987, certain loans for the development of export trade are now made under budgetary authority.

The following table presents the balances and transactions for the loans made to national governments, together with their terms and conditions of repayments. The closing balance of loans to national governments includes, where applicable, total payments made under both budgetary and non-budgetary authorities. The total budgetary payments are deducted as a lump sum amount under the caption "Payments made under budgetary authority" at the end of the table to arrive at the amount reported in Table 7.13.

Interest of $51 million was received and credited to non-tax revenue.

North Atlantic Treaty Organization—Damage claims recoverable

Article VIII of the NATO Status of Forces Agreement signed April 4, 1949, as amended, deals with claims for damages to third parties arising from accidents in which a member of a visiting force is involved. This account is charged with the amount recoverable from other states, for claims for damages which took place in Canada, and is credited with recoveries.

The advances are non-interest bearing and have no specific repayment terms.

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

This group records Canada's subscriptions to the capital of the African Development Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the Caribbean Development Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (i.e. World Bank), the International Development Association and the International Finance Corporation. It also includes loans and advances to other international organizations.

Capital subscriptions are made in part by the issuance of non-interest bearing, non-negotiable demand notes. The amounts advanced or loaned vary according to the needs of the organizations concerned, and the terms of the agreements.

The net position of the Government vis-à-vis the international organizations has been obtained by deducting from subscriptions, loans and advances, the non-interest bearing notes issued by Canada to these organizations. These notes, payable on demand, represent that portion of the investment by Canada in these organizations which has not yet been encashed by them. These notes are encashed subject to the financial requirements of these organizations.

Commencing April 1, 1986, note encashments, and cash subscriptions/loans to international financial institutions are now made under budgetary authority. However, subscriptions/loans made by the issuance of non-interest bearing notes continue to be under non-budgetary authority.

Table 7.14 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the subscriptions, loans and advances to international organizations. The closing balance of loans/subscriptions to international financial institutions includes, where applicable, total loans/subscriptions made under both budgetary and non-budgetary authorities. The total budgetary payments to all international financial institutions are deducted as a lump sum amount under the caption "Payments made under budgetary authority" at the end of the table to arrive at the total amount reported in Table 7.1 as International organizations (net). In addition, Table 7.15 presents additional disclosure of information related to subscriptions to the capital of international development institutions.

[1] Foreign currencies were translated into Canadian dollars using the closing rates of exchange at March 31, 1988 ($1US = $1.2349 Cdn; 1 SDR = $1.71316 Cdn).

[2] Commitments to the institutions will require future "Maintenance of value" payments.
According to the Articles of Agreement of the World Bank, countries are obliged to maintain the value of certain portions of their paid-in capital subscriptions and contributions. The World Bank has not had a workable standard of value since 1978 when the formal link between the US dollar and gold was broken. The World Bank agreed not to seek payment of these obligations pending the establishment of a new standard of value for the Bank. Maintenance of value obligations do not exist for International Development Association contributions. In October 1986, the Executive Board agreed upon the "1974 SDR" as a successor standard of value. The 1974 SDR is a fixed US dollar equivalent of the value of the SDR prevailing in 1974 ($1.20635US = 1 SDR). Maintenance of value payments will be resumed on July 1, 1987. It is expected that other institutions will follow this lead.

[3] Canadian currency equivalent of 42,000,000 units of account. One unit = $1.20635 US = $1.1556 Cdn as of May 1979.

[4] Canadian currency equivalent of 126,000,000 units of account. One unit = $1.20635 US = $1.1556 Cdn as of May 1979.

[5] These amounts are reflected as non-lapsing non-budgetary authorities in the External Affairs ministerial section of Volume II, Part I (Section 9).

[6] This amount excludes a maintenance of value payment of $1,192,625.

[7] Canada's subscription is for 23,164 shares. Payments are accounted for as a proportion of each share.

[8] Valued at $2,769,000,000 US translated at $1 US = $1.2349 Cdn. This represents approximately 91% of the total subscription.

[9] Subscription and payment authorities are annual budgetary voted items presented in the Finance ministerial section of Volume II, Part I (Section 10).

[10] There are no outstanding subscriptions other than the notes payable in Table 7.14. Accounting is based on dollar values rather than number of shares.

[11] This represents a commitment by Canada to the capital of the Corporation to be paid by 1990, rather than a "callable" amount.

Participation in the financing of these working capital funds, on the basis of the scale of assessments, is prescribed by financial regulations for membership in the organizations. Payments into the funds are not subject to interest or repayment schedules, but are recorded by the organizations as credits from member states. VETERANS' LAND ACT FUND ADVANCES

Advances have been made, under Parts I and III of the Veterans' Land Act, for the acquisition of land, permanent improvements, removal of encumbrances, purchase of stock and equipment, and protection of security and, under Part II of the Act, for the purchase, subdivision and development of land, and for progress payments to veterans during construction and completion of unfinished houses, after termination of construction contracts, etc. On completion of the construction contract for each house, Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation will place or arrange to have placed, a mortgage on the property and will reimburse the Fund the full cost of that property. The total amount authorized to be outstanding at any time is $605,000,000.

A provision equal to 1/10 of the benefits to veterans was established each year up to and including 1978-79. Since that time, a forecast of requirements has been performed each year, and provisions are established as necessary. These provisions are charged to budgetary expenditure and credited to the allowance for conditional benefits account. The allowance for conditional benefits account represents the accumulated net provisions for benefits to veterans in the form of forgiveness of loans authorized by the Veterans' Land Act. These benefits come into effect only after certain conditions are fulfilled by the veterans. At the end of 10 years, the conditions having been met, the accumulated provision is charged to the allowance for conditional benefits account, and credited to the veteran's loan account.

Table 7.16 summarizes the balances and transactions for advances to the Veterans' Land Act Fund.

JOINT AND MIXED ENTERPRISES

Joint and mixed enterprises are entities with share capital owned jointly by the Government and other governments and/or organizations to further common objectives. This group records and/or reports the Government's loans, investments and advances to such entities. Additional information on these entities is provided in Volume III of the Public Accounts.

Under the terms of Section 118 of the Bankruptcy Act, the Superintendent of Bankruptcy has received shares in a number of corporations in lieu of a cash levy payable to the Crown. The Government's purpose in sharing ownership in these corporations with other entities is not to further common operating objectives.

Table 7.17 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the various types of loans, investments and advances to joint and mixed enterprises.

Recorded Uncollected Interest

In accordance with Government's stated accounting policies, interest due but not received is not reported as revenue. In certain cases, this uncollected interest is recorded by being added to the applicable loan and advance account, and credited to an uncollected interest account. Since the Government's policy is to report revenue only as received, the balance of the uncollected interest account is deducted from the loan and advance account, to present it on a net basis.

Table 7.20 reports the balances and transactions for the year in respect of the recorded uncollected interest.

SPECIFIED PURPOSE ACCOUNTS

Specified purpose accounts represent the recorded value of the financial obligations of the Government of Canada in its role as administrator of certain public moneys received or collected for specified purposes, under or pursuant to the legislation, trusts, treaties, undertakings or contracts. These public moneys may be paid out only for the purposes specified in or pursuant to the legislation, trusts, treaties, undertakings or contracts.

Because of the dedicated purposes of these moneys, specific accounts are required to be maintained to provide an accounting mechanism to ensure that the moneys are used only for the purposes for which they were received or collected. Legislation relating to some accounts permits investments to be made and, in certain cases, the balances of the accounts earn interest.

This section gives details of specified purpose accounts on which summary information was given in Sections 1 and 2 of this volume.

Some tables in this section present the continuity of accounts, by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts and other credits, and payments and other charges. In addition, the term "account(s) without current transactions" has been included in some tables, to show the net result of transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

The financial statements of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, the Government Annuities Account and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund, together with the Auditor General's reports thereon, are presented at the end of this section.

Canada Pension Plan Account

The Canada Pension Plan is a compulsory contributory social insurance plan which enables members of the labour force to acquire and retain protection for themselves and their families against loss of income due to retirement, disability or death. Established in 1965, the Plan applies in all parts of Canada, except the Province of Quebec which has a comparable plan.

Under existing arrangements, all benefits and costs incurred in the administration of the program are financed from contributions made by employees, employers and self-employed persons, and the interest earned from the investment of funds.

The Government's financial obligation, as administrator of the Canada Pension Plan, is limited to the balance in the Account.

Table 8.2 presents a summary of the balances and transactions in the Canada Pension Plan Account less investment in securities of the provinces and territories held by the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund.

(a) contributions of: (i) 1.9% of earnings by employees earning over $2,500 for the 1987 calendar year and 2.0% of earnings over $2,600 for the 1988 calendar year, subject to maximum payments of $444.60 for the 1987 calendar year and $478 for the 1988 calendar year, with matching contributions by employers and (ii) 3.8% of earnings of self-employed persons over $2,500 for the 1987 calendar year and 4.0% of earnings over $2,600 for the 1988 calendar year, subject to maximum payments of $889.20 for the 1987 calendar year and $956 for the 1988 calendar year;

(b) interest received from securities of the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, and from the average daily operating balance; and,

(c) funds received from the federal and provincial governments for securities which have been redeemed.

Payments and other charges include:

(a) benefits paid under the Canada Pension Plan as retirement pensions, survivors' benefits paid to widows, widowers and orphans, or as lump sum death benefits, and disability pensions and benefits to children of disabled contributors;

(b) benefits paid and recovered from the Canada Pension Plan, in accordance with an agreement with a province providing a comprehensive pension plan;

(c) payments that are required to be charged to the Canada Pension Plan Account, in accordance with reciprocal agreements with other countries;

(d) the costs of administration of the Plan; and,

(e) funds invested during the year in the securities of the federal, provincial and territorial governments.

When the operating balance exceeds the estimated amount required to meet all payments in the following three-month period, the excess is available for the purchase of securities of the provinces, territories and Canada.

Provinces and territories are advised monthly of the amount of excess moneys in the Canada Pension Plan Account that is available for the purchase of provincial and territorial securities. The amount available to each province and territory is the proportion that contributions made to the Plan during the preceding ten years in respect of employment in the province or territory bears to total contributions. Contributions received in respect of employment from employees outside Canada as well as any excess funds not invested in the securities of the provinces and territories are invested in the special non-marketable bonds of the Government of Canada.

Certain federal employees, such as members of the Canadian Armed Forces, who are resident in the Province of Quebec, contribute to the Canada Pension Plan. The securities of Quebec which are purchased by the Plan relate to the contributions of these employees.

On the Statement of Assets and Liabilities of the Government of Canada, the investment in securities issued by provinces and territories, as charged to the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, is deducted from the Canada Pension Plan Account. The liability of the Government of Canada of $4,775,873,899 at March 31, 1988 ($3,774,113,028 as at March 31, 1987) is comprised of $2,491,847,000 ($1,795,680,000 in 1987) in special non-marketable bonds issued to the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund (Section 11 in this volume) with the balance of $2,284,026,899 ($1,978,433,028 in 1987) being held on deposit in the Consolidated Revenue Fund to cover three months operating costs and the April purchase of securities.

Superannuation Accounts

The Government provides pensions to retired employees or their dependants through pension schemes authorized by the Public Service Superannuation Act, the Canadian Forces Superannuation Act and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Act. These pensions are indexed to the cost of living under authority of the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act. The Government's liabilities in its role as sponsor and administrator of these pension plans in respect of its employees and certain other contributors, are recorded in the relevant superannuation accounts.

Legislation for basic pensions provides for employee contributions (6½% of salary), employer contributions (prior year's employee contributions for members of the Public Service, and approximately 1.8 and 2.0 times current year's employee contributions for members of the Canadian Forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police respectively), allocation of interest (average market yield of 20 year Canada bonds weighted by the quarterly excess of receipts over disbursements in the three accounts each quarter over 20 years), and actuarial valuation deficiencies. Legislation for indexing basic pensions does not require actuarial valuations but does provide for additional employee contributions (1% of salary), matching employer contributions and allocation of interest (current rate of 5 year Canada bonds).

Receipts and other credits for the superannuation accounts consist of contributions from personnel, related contributions from the Government and participating Public Service corporations, transfers from other pension funds, other Government contributions related to actuarial liability adjustments (not applicable to the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account), and interest. Payments and other charges for the superannuation accounts consist of payments of pensions, minimum benefits, cash termination allowances (lump sum payments to employees suffering a disability), refunds of contributions and transfers to other plans.

The Public Pensions Reporting Act, as passed by the House of Commons on February 10, 1986, requires that actuarial reviews be conducted at a date not later than four years after the last review date and, thereafter, at dates not more than three years apart, for each of the employer-sponsored pension plans, and the portion of the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account that relates to these plans. As specified in that Act, the last review dates are deemed to be December 31, 1983 for the Public Service Superannuation Account, December 31, 1983 for the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account, and December 31, 1985 for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account.

In accordance with the legislation governing the basic portion of the three superannuation plans, the Minister of Finance has the authority to direct that any actuarial deficiency found will be credited to the appropriate account, charged to unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies, and amortized to expenditure in five equal annual instalments commencing in the year in which the actuarial report is laid before Parliament. In addition, the cost of added liabilities, created by the authorization of salary increases each year, is credited to the superannuation accounts, charged to unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies, and amortized to expenditure over a period of five years commencing in the year in which the increases are authorized.

Since the quarter ending September 30, 1969, the regulations, made pursuant to each of the superannuation acts, have provided for the calculation of interest on the basic accounts at a rate related to the Canada Pension Plan interest rate. The acts further provide that the amount by which the calculated interest rate (currently about 11% per annum) exceeds the amount of interest calculated at the rate used in the latest actuarial report (currently 6.5% per annum for the Public Service, Canadian Forces and Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Accounts), may be used to reduce the amortization of actuarial deficiency adjustments charged to budgetary expenditure. Any of these interest earnings not needed to reduce amortization charges are credited to the respective Accounts.

Table 8.4 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the superannuation accounts including the unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies. Table 8.5 presents an analysis of actuarial deficiency adjustments.

Table 8.6 presents a summary of transactions in the superannuation accounts that resulted in charges to budgetary expenditure. In 1987-88, $6,874 million was charged to budgetary expenditure on account of superannuation plans. This was composed of Government contributions, $871 million; increased superannuation benefits paid during the year due to indexation in excess of the superannuates' share of contributions to the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account, $839 million; and, interest, $5,164 million ($5,160 million credited to the superannuation accounts and $4 million of interest earnings in excess of 6.5% on the main superannuation accounts which was used to reduce the amortization of actuarial deficiency adjustments).

Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account

This account was established by the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act, to provide for the payment of increased pension benefits resulting from indexation. Actuarial valuation of the Account is not required by the legislation.

The Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance has estimated that, after allowing for surpluses (there were no deficits) in the three basic accounts, the actuarial present value of unfunded supplementary retirement benefits, including provision for future indexation, in respect of benefits earned or in pay as at March 31, 1988, was $3.8 billion, or $4.1 billion if the Royal Canadian Mounted Police plan which has no net unfunded supplementary retirement benefits is excluded. This amount is based on dynamic economic assumptions which incorporate the current high interest rates (the interest rate was assumed to decrease from a level of 10% in 1988 to 6% for 2007 and subsequent years) as well as current price and salary increase levels, which were gradually linked with ultimate or long-term economic assumptions of 6% for interest, 5% for wages and an inflation rate of 3.5%.

Increased superannuation benefits paid during the year due to indexation amounted to $893 million ($821 million in 1986-87), of which $839 million ($784 million in 1986-87) represents benefits to superannuates in excess of their share of contributions to the account which has been charged to budgetary expenditure. The payments charged to budgetary expenditure on behalf of contributors amounted to $501 million ($476 million in 1986-87) for the Public Service Superannuation Account of which it is estimated that $40 million ($38 million in 1986-87) pertains to former employees of Public Service corporations, $314 million ($286 million in 1986-87) for the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account, and $24 million ($22 million in 1986-87) for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account. An amount of $54 million ($37 million in 1986-87) was charged to the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account.

Government Annuities Account

This account was established by the Government Annuities Act, and modified by the Government Annuities Improvement Act, which discontinued sales of annuities in 1975. The account is valued on an actuarial basis each year, with the deficit or surplus charged or credited to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The purpose of the Government Annuities Act was to assist Canadians to provide for their later years, by the purchase of Government annuities. The Government Annuities Improvement Act increased the rate of return and flexibility of Government annuity contracts.

Receipts and other credits consist of premiums received, funds reclaimed from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for previously unlocated annuitants, earned interest and items transferred from previous years' revenue to cover the actuarial deficit. Payments and other charges represent matured annuities, the commuted value of death benefits, premium refunds and withdrawals, and actuarial surpluses and unclaimed items transferred to non-tax revenue. The amounts of unclaimed annuities, related to annuitants who cannot be located, are transferred to non-tax revenue.

Deposit and Trust Accounts

Deposit and trust accounts is a group of liabilities representing the Government's financial obligations in its role as administrator of certain moneys that it has received or collected for specified purposes and that it will pay out accordingly. To the extent that the funds received are represented by securities, these are deducted from the corresponding accounts to show the Government's net liability.

Table 8.11 presents a summary of the balances and transactions in deposit and trust accounts.

NOTES TO STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 1988

1. Plan description and authority

The Canada Pension Plan (the Plan) is a compulsory and contributory social insurance plan which enables members of the labour force to acquire and retain protection for themselves and their families against loss of income due to retirement, disability or death. The Plan applies in all parts of Canada, except for the Province of Quebec which has a parallel plan.

Under existing arrangements, all benefits and all costs incurred in the administration of the Plan are financed by the contributions made by employees, employers and self-employed persons and the interest earned from the investment of funds.

The Canada Pension Plan Account (the Account) was established in the accounts of Canada by Section 110.(1) of the Canada Pension Plan, a 1965 Act of Parliament, to record the contributions, interest, benefits and expenses of the Plan.

The Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund (the Fund) was established in the accounts of Canada by Section 111.(1) of the Plan to record the investment in securities of the provinces, territories and Canada.

2. Accounting policies

Canada Pension Plan Account

The amounts credited and charged to the Account are in accordance with Sections 110.(2) and 110.(3) of the Plan, respectively. Contributions, interest and benefits are recorded on a cash basis. Contributions are received from Revenue Canada—Taxation based on estimates of collections for the current year and adjustments to the estimates of prior years. Expenses are recorded on an accrual basis. The balance in the Account represents the accumulated excess of contributions and interest over benefits and expenses to date.

Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund

The amounts charged and credited to the Fund are in accordance with Section 111.(2) of the Plan. All securities held are carried at cost, are non-negotiable and have a term of 20 years or such lesser period as may be determined by the Minister of Finance on the recommendation of the Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance.

	3,669,228	3,403,850

4. Expenses

Expenses of the Account represent the costs of administration charged by six federal government departments: Revenue Canada—Taxation (collection of contributions); Health and Welfare (administration); Supply and Services (cheque issue and computer services); Public Works (accommodation); Employment and Immigration (assignment of social insurance numbers and maintenance of central index); and Insurance (actuarial services).

5. Investment in securities

Operating balances on deposit with the Receiver General in excess of estimated cash requirements for the following three-month period are available for purchases of securities of the provinces, territories and Canada. The monies available for security purchases are allocated to the provinces and territories based on the proportion of contributions credited to the Account during the preceding 10 years in respect of employment in a given province or a territory to the total contributions in those years. The portion attributed to certain other employees outside Canada continues to be invested in securities of Canada.

The securities of Quebec relate to the contributions of certain federal employees, such as members of the Canadian Armed Forces, who are residents in the Province of Quebec.

6. Financing of the Plan

The Canada Pension Plan was amended by Bill C-116 with effect from January 1, 1987. The effect of those changes was partially reflected in the fiscal year 1986-87. Financial statements for the year 1987-88 fully display the effect.

A long-term financing philosophy was established setting out provisions for the timing, rate of increase of the contribution rates and amendments thereto which will be made by regulation.

The revised legislation now contains a 25 year schedule of contribution rates providing for an increase from the 1986 rate of 3.6% progressively by 0.2 percentage points each year until 1991 and by 0.15 percentage points thereafter until 2011 when it will reach 7.6%. However, it stipulates that every five years the Minister of Finance and ministers of the Crown from the included provinces shall review the contribution rates set out in the schedule and make recommendations as to whether those rates should be changed and as to whether the schedule should be amended to include contribution rates for an additional five years. If, for any reason, the schedule is not amended for the additional five years the Minister of Finance shall, by regulation, amend the schedule to include the contribution rates set out in the most recent report prepared by the Chief Actuary. By the year 2011, it is expected that the Plan's Account will be equivalent to approximately two years' expenditure of the Plan and will be maintained near that level in accordance with the provisions of Section 114.1(4)(c) of the revised legislation.

Under existing legislation, any proposed enactment to alter the general level of benefits or the rate of contributions requires agreement by at least two-thirds of the 10 provinces having an aggregate of not less than two-thirds of the population.

Other significant amendments by Bill C-116 were a flexible retirement provision starting at the age of 60; increased disability and combined benefit payments; additional benefits for dependent children; the extension of benefits to remarried survivors; the splitting of pension credits to separated couples; and, the assignment of pensions betweeen spouses.

Report No 10 was the Chief Actuary's last report tabled in Parliament in October 1986. Among other things, it contained the results of his examination of the financial impact of the legislative changes in Bill C-116.

Government Annuities Account

AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MINISTER OF EMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION

I have examined the balance sheet of the Government Annuities Account as at March 31, 1988 and the statements of operations and actuarial reserves and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Account as at March 31, 1988 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Further, in my opinion, the transactions of the Account that have come to my notice during my examination of the financial statements have, in all significant respects, been in accordance with section 15 of the Government Annuities Act and Regulations and section 15 of the Government Annuities Improvement Act.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1988

1. Authority and purpose

The Government Annuities Account was established in 1908 by the Government Annuities Act, R.S.C. c. G-6, (the "Act"), and modified by the Government Annuities Improvement Act, S.C. 1974-75-76, c. 83, (the "Improvement Act").

The purpose of the Act was to assist individuals and groups of Canadians to provide for their later years by purchasing Government annuities. The Improvement Act increased the rate of return on Government annuity contracts to a rate of seven percent, increased their flexibility and discontinued future sales.

The Account is administered by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission and operates through the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of accounting

The accounts of the Government Annuities Account are maintained on an accrual basis.

(b) Actuarial reserves

Actuarial reserves comprise: (i) in respect of unmatured annuities, accumulated premiums and accrued interest, and (ii) in respect of matured annuities, the present value of such annuities actuarially determined on the basis of such rate or rates of interest and mortality tables as is prescribed.

(c) Actuarial surplus due to Canada

If at the end of any fiscal year the recorded amount of actuarial reserves exceeds or is less than the calculated amount of actuarial reserves, the difference results in an actuarial surplus or deficit which is remitted to or recovered from the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

(d) Interest from Canada

Interest from Canada is calculated on actuarial reserves as prescribed by the Improvement Act.

(e) Unclaimed annuities

Unclaimed annuities represent amounts transferred to the Consolidated Revenue Fund in respect of annuities that could not be paid because the annuitants could not be located.

(f) Services provided without charge

Administrative services are provided to the Account by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission and by other Government departments without charge.

Government Annuities Account—Concluded

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1988—Concluded

3. Actuarial reserves

The method utilized to calculate the actuarial reserves of $984,816,000 (1987—$1,022,332,000) is in accordance with subsection 15(1) of the Government Annuities Improvement Act, S.C. 1974-75-76, c. 83 and the Regulations pertaining thereto.

The Government Annuities Regulations provide that the Mortality Tables to be used in determining the values of annuities shall be the Annuity Tables for 1949 modified by Projection Scale C.

Mortality statistics in the last decade have shown that life expectancy has increased at a faster rate than that provided by these mortality tables. Should this trend continue at the same rate in the future, the 1949 Mortality table adjusted by Projection Scale C may need to be modified and could result in a potential additional liability that would impact future actuarial reserves. The Commission undertakes an annual review of mortality in the preceding five year period to monitor the appropriateness of the mortality tables for valuation purposes. The results of the 1986-87 study indicate that the mortality tables in use continue to be appropriate.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT MARCH 31, 1988

1. Authority and operations

   The Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund was established in 1934 by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Pension Continuation Act. The Act provides for members of the Force, other than commissioned officers, appointed before March 1, 1949, to purchase certain survivorship benefits for their dependants by payment of specified contributions. The Fund is credited with these contributions together with interest computed quarterly on the balance to the credit of the Fund at the end of the preceding quarter, and charged with contributions withdrawn and pensions. All transactions of the Fund are made through the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

   Section 56 of the Act directs the Minister of Finance to have an actuarial valuation of the Fund made at least once every 5 years. If the actuarial valuation discloses a surplus, the Governor in Council may, by order, increase pensions. If there is an actuarial deficiency, the Governor in Council may direct that there be credited to the Fund, out of any unappropriated moneys in the Consolidated Revenue Fund, such amount as may be required to re-establish solvency of the Fund.

2. Significant accounting policy

   Revenues and expenditures are recorded on the accrual basis.

3. Supplementary information

   The most recent actuarial valuation was made as at March 31, 1986. The valuation disclosed an actuarial surplus of $2,598,443. A portion of the surplus has been distributed by increases in the basic pension amount of 30% as at April 1, 1986 and 15% as of April 1, 1987. A further increase of 15% will be in effect April 1, 1988.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE ACCOUNTS

Foreign exchange accounts represent financial claims and obligations of the Government of Canada which are identified with Canada's foreign exchange operations. Financial claims and obligations denominated in foreign currencies are reported at Canadian dollar equivalents at March 31. Net gains resulting from the translation of the net assets denominated in foreign currencies, to Canadian dollar equivalents as at March 31, are credited to revenue as premium and discount on exchange, and net losses are charged to budgetary expenditure of the Department of Finance.

Table 10.1 presents the continuity of each foreign exchange account, by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts and other credits, and payments and other charges. It should be noted, however, that this table excludes unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies, amounting to $11,282 million as at March 31, 1988 ($11,997 million as at March 31, 1987); details relating to these obligations are presented in Section 11 of this volume.

International Reserves Held in the Exchange Fund Account

This account records the moneys advanced from the Government of Canada to the Exchange Fund Account, in Canadian and other currencies, for the purchase of gold, foreign currencies and securities, and Special Drawing Rights (SDRs).

The Exchange Fund Account is operated under the provisions of the Currency Act. In accordance with this Act, audited financial statements for the Exchange Fund Account are prepared for each calendar year. The financial statements as at December 31, 1987, together with the Auditor General's report thereon, are found at the end of this section.

In determining the net income of the Exchange Fund Account, the Currency Act drew a distinction between regular investment income and valuation gains or losses. Valuation gains or losses, which are due to exchange rate changes and gold sales, were averaged over three years under the Currency Act, while, since 1985-86, they have been recognized in the Public Accounts in the year in which they occurred. With the coming into force of Bill C-99, an Act to amend the Currency Act, on March 22, 1988, this difference in accounting treatment was eliminated.

Table 10.2 shows foreign exchange reserves held by and advances to the Exchange Fund Account as at March 31, 1988. Gold held by the Account is valued at 35 SDRs per fine ounce ($59.96 Cdn as at March 31, 1988 and $58.74 Cdn as at March 31, 1987).

In 1987-88, payments and other charges consisted of advances to the Exchange Fund Account in the amount of $58,805.6 million and an adjustment of $383.3 million to recognize the net income of the Exchange Fund Account for the period January 1 to March 31. Receipts and other credits consisted of repayments of advances of $52,212.8 million and a valuation adjustment of $410 million.

International Monetary Fund—Subscriptions

This account records the value of Canada's subscription (its "quota") to the capital of the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

The amount by which the sum of Canada's subscriptions plus loans to the IMF under special facilities exceeds the IMF's holdings of Canadian dollars represents the amount of foreign exchange which Canada is entitled to draw from the IMF on demand for balance of payments purposes. The subscription is expressed in terms of the SDR, a unit of account defined in terms of a "basket" of five major currencies.

Canada has accumulated its subscriptions through settlements to the IMF in Canadian dollars, gold and SDRs. Annual maintenance of value payments are made to, or received from, the IMF when the Canadian dollar depreciates or appreciates against the SDR, in order to maintain the SDR-value of the IMF's holdings of Canadian dollars. In 1987-88, receipts and other credits consisted of a maintenance of value adjustment of $86.8 million while payments and other charges consisted of a valuation adjustment of $189.1 million.

International Monetary Fund—Notes Payable

This account records non-marketable, non-interest bearing notes issued by the Government of Canada to the IMF. These notes are payable on demand and are subject to redemption or re-issue, depending on the needs of the IMF for Canadian currency.

Canadian dollar holdings of the IMF include these notes and a small working balance (initially equal to one-quarter of one percent of Canada's subscription) held on deposit at the Bank of Canada. In 1987-88, notes payable to the IMF increased by $207.6 million.

Special Drawing Rights Allocations

This account records the value of SDRs allocated to Canada by the IMF. The Special Drawing Right is an international currency created by the IMF, and allocated to countries participating in its Special Drawing Rights Department. It represents a liability of Canada, as circumstances could arise whereby Canada could be called upon to repay these allocations, in part or in total.

As an asset, SDRs represent rights to purchase currencies of other countries participating in the IMF's Special Drawing Rights Department, as well as to make payments to the IMF itself. All SDRs allocated to Canada by the IMF have either been used to settle subscriptions in the IMF, or have been advanced to the Exchange Fund Account.

There was no allocation of SDRs by the IMF to Canada during the year. In 1987-88, receipts and other credits consisted of a valuation adjustment of $27.1 million.

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENT

Exchange Fund Account

AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MINISTER OF FINANCE

I have examined the balance sheet of the Exchange Fund Account as at December 31, 1987 and the statement of income for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, the Exchange Fund Account for the year ended December 31, 1987 was in compliance, in all significant respects, with applicable provisions of the Currency Act, R.S., c. C-39, as amended.

Further, in my opinion, the financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Exchange Fund Account as at December 31, 1987 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2 to the financial statements applied, except for the change in the method of taking valuation gains and losses into net income due to the Consolidated Revenue Fund as explained in Note 11 to the financial statements, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

DECEMBER 31, 1987

1. Authority and objective

The Account is governed by Part II of the Currency Act, R.S., c. C-39, as amended (the Act). The Account is in the name of the Minister of Finance and is administered by the Bank of Canada as fiscal agent. The Account is funded by advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund (CRF) which are limited to Cdn $15 billion by Order in Council dated December 3, 1987 and are not subject to interest. The net income or loss for the year is payable or chargeable to the CRF within three months after the end of the year.

The main objective of the Account is to aid in the control and protection of the external value of the Canadian dollar and the Minister acquires for the Account those assets which are deemed appropriate for this purpose in accordance with the Act.

2. Accounting policies

Valuation of assets

US dollar securities, Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) and International Monetary Fund (IMF) notes are adjusted for amortized premiums and discounts where applicable, and include accrued interest. Gold includes gold loans and accrued interest on gold loans. Under the Currency Act, the Minister of Finance determines the gold valuation policy of the Account (Note 6). Cash and short-term deposits include accrued interest where applicable.

Translation of foreign currencies and SDRs

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Canadian dollars at the year-end exchange rates in the Canadian foreign exchange market. Assets and liabilities denominated in SDRs are first translated into US dollars at the year-end US dollar value of the SDR, as calculated by the IMF, and then into Canadian dollars. Investment income in foreign currencies is translated into Canadian dollars at the foreign exchange rates prevailing on the date the income is recorded. The assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies and SDRs have been translated into Canadian dollars at the following year-end exchange rates:

	1987	1986
US dollar	1.2993	1.3805
Japanese yen	0.010737	0.008736
Swiss franc	1.0231	0.8572
Special Drawing Right	1.84327	1.68861
Deutsche mark	0.8275	0.7191

Investment income

Investment income is recorded on an accrual basis and includes interest earned, amortization of premiums and discounts, and gains and losses on the sale of securities.

Valuation gains and losses

Valuation gains and losses include the increases and decreases in the value of assets and liabilities arising from the translation of foreign currencies and SDRs during the year and at year end. Valuation gains and losses also include gains or losses on transactions in foreign currencies, SDRs and gold, and on the liquidation of liabilities.

Operating expenses

The Bank of Canada provides, without charge, the administrative, custodial and fiscal agency services to carry out the objectives of the Account.

These notes represent Canada's participation in the Supplementary Financing Facility established to assist members of the IMF with balance of payments needs. The notes were acquired in 1983 and 1984 and have original terms to maturity of five years. They are redeemable on demand if Canada represents that it has a balance of payments need and are transferable to other members.

Gold is valued in the Account at 35 SDRs per fine ounce, which approximates its historical cost in foreign currency terms. In keeping with the method of valuation used for other assets, gold holdings were translated into US dollars at the year-end US dollar value of the SDR, and to a Canadian dollar equivalent at the year-end exchange rate for the US dollar.

The book value, market value (as recorded at the London fixings) and approximate Canadian dollar historical cost of gold and gold loans at historical rates of exchange, excluding accrued interest on gold loans, at year end are:

	1987		1986
	Per fine ounce	Total in millions	Per fine ounce	Total in millions

Approximate historical cost — $ Cdn	36.91	683.5	36.91	728.0

The Minister of Finance has authorized loans and/or sales, at market related prices, of part of the gold held by the Account, to the Royal Canadian Mint and others. At year end, the Account's gold holdings included gold loans of 1,213 thousand (1986—1,118 thousand) fine ounces.

7. Official international reserve assets

The Account is the principal repository of Canada's official international reserves. The remainder of Canada's international reserves are held by the Bank of Canada and the CRF and are not reflected in the statements of the Account.

8. Provision for valuation losses (gains) on uncompleted contracts

At year end, the Account had uncompleted foreign exchange transactions and swaps. As the exchange rates on these uncompleted contracts differ from the year-end rates at which the Account's assets and liabilities are valued, additional valuation gains or losses will occur upon settlement. The provision for valuation gains or losses on uncompleted contracts arises from the revaluation of such contracts using the year-end rates of exchange and represents the portion of future net gains or losses attributed to the current year.

Under swap arrangements with the Bank of Canada, the Account sells US dollars to the Bank and agrees to repurchase these amounts at the same exchange rates at which they were sold. These contracts are undertaken to assist in the Bank's cash management operations. Outstanding swaps with the Bank of Canada at year end amounted to US $930 million in 1987 (Cdn $1,212 million) (1986—US $760 million, Cdn $1,049 million).

Redemptions of borrowings are made using the resources of the Account. Interest payable by Canada on borrowings in foreign currencies is charged directly to the CRF.

11. Subsequent event and change in accounting policy

On March 22, 1988, Bill C-99, an Act to amend the Currency Act, came into force. The amendments require that the net income of the Account for a calendar year shall be determined in accordance with accounting principles that are consistent with those applied in preparing the Public Accounts of Canada. The amendments remove the provision whereby valuation gains and losses for the year are taken into net income due to the CRF in three equal portions over the current and two succeeding years. The modified accounting policy applied is to take valuation gains and losses into net income due to the CRF in the current year. This accounting policy has been applied to the Account for 1987. The effect of this change has been to reduce deferred net valuation gains and to increase the net income for the year due to the CRF by $100 million for 1987.

UNMATURED DEBT

Unmatured debt represents financial obligations resulting from certificates of indebtedness issued by the Government of Canada that have not yet become due.

The Government's holdings of its own securities have been deducted from unmatured debt, to report the amount of the Government's liabilities to outside parties.

Some tables in this section present the continuity of accounts, by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as issues and retirements. In addition, the term "account(s) without current transactions" has been included in some tables, to show the net result of transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

Marketable Bonds

Marketable bonds are interest-bearing certificates of indebtedness issued by the Government of Canada, and have the following characteristics:

—bought and sold on the open market;

—payable in Canadian or foreign currency;

—subject to call or redemption before maturity;

—fixed dates of maturity;

—interest payable either in coupon or registered form; and,

—face value guaranteed at maturity.

Registered marketable bonds are transferable by endorsement and delivery by one holder to another. Bearer marketable bonds need not be endorsed.

Table 11.2 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for marketable bonds. Since most of the marketable bonds are not subject to call or redemption before maturity, exceptions only are noted in the table.

The year-end balances of marketable bonds payable in foreign currencies were translated into Canadian dollars using the closing rates of exchange at March 31, 1988.

Canada Bills

Canada bills are short-term certificates of indebtedness issued by the Government of Canada in the United States money markets under the Government's foreign currency borrowing program. Canada bills provide Canada with an additional source of short-term U.S. funds and have the following characteristics:

—issued at a discount in lieu of interest payments;

—term to maturity of not more than 270 days;

—transferable; and,

—bought and sold on the open market.

The year-end balance of Canada bills payable in US dollars was translated into Canadian dollars using the closing rate of exchange at March 31, 1988.

Table 11.7 presents a monthly summary of Canada bill issues and redemptions.

Table 11.8 sets out unmatured debt at March 31, for each of the years 1983-84 to 1987-88 inclusive, with the average rate of interest thereon. For purposes of comparison, unmatured debt is classified as to marketable bonds, non-marketable bonds (include Canada savings bonds and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund), Treasury bills, notes and loans, and Canada bills.

Statement of all Borrowing Transactions on behalf of Her Majesty

Table 11.11 presents the information required by Section 40 of the Financial Administration Act. The borrowing transactions included in this table are: borrowings by the Government for general purposes, and borrowings by agent Crown corporations which are reported as such on the Government's Statement of Assets and Liabilities, except where the Government is the lender. Borrowings by non-agent Crown corporations are not included because such borrowings are not on behalf of Her Majesty.

Cash in hands of collectors and in transit

This account records public moneys received by public officers prior to April 1, but not deposited to the credit of the Receiver General for Canada in the Bank of Canada, before that date.

Moneys received after March 31 but applicable to the current year

Public moneys received after March 31, but applicable to the year just ended, are recorded in this account.

This account includes refunds of old year expenditure received prior to the closing of the accounts, and receipts to be credited to asset, liability, and (in exceptional cases) revenue accounts, where the omission of the credits in the old year would tend to make the accounting incomplete or inconsistent.

Cash

The Government's cash account represents public moneys on deposit at March 31, to the credit of the Receiver General for Canada, with the Bank of Canada, chartered banks and other financial institutions.

The cash position of the Government is affected not only by budgetary transactions, but also by non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions, all of which must be taken into account when considering the full scope of the Government's financial operations.

Table 12.2 presents a summary of the balances and related transactions in current and special Receiver General deposits.

The year-end balances denominated in foreign currencies have been translated into Canadian dollar equivalents at year-end closing rates of exchange. Foreign currencies held include United Kingdom pounds sterling, United States dollars, Belgian, Swiss and French francs, West German marks, and Japanese yen.

Receiver General special deposits

These are balances in the hands of fiscal agents of the Government, for the purchase or redemption of Government securities, and for the payment of interest.

Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are tangible, durable items of value, including major additions or alterations thereto, from which benefits are expected to be derived during their useful lives.

The fixed assets of the Government, which include land, engineering structures and works (such as canals, harbours and roads), buildings, and machinery and equipment, are charged to budgetary expenditure at the time of acquisition or construction, in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government of Canada which are described in Note 1 to the audited financial statements (Section 2 of this volume). Their existence, however, is acknowledged on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities by reporting them at the nominal value of $1.

Accumulated Deficit

The accumulated deficit is the account recording the net sum of annual deficits and surpluses of the Government of Canada since Confederation, together with certain amounts charged or credited directly to this account. The accumulated deficit is also equal to the excess of recorded liabilities over total financial assets.

A Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit is published in Section 2 of this volume.

A five year comparative statement of the accumulated deficit, in terms of total liabilities and total financial assets, is presented as follows:

OTHER INFORMATION

Contractual Commitments

A contractual commitment represents a written obligation to outside organizations or individuals as a result of a contract. The nature of the Government's activities requires it to enter into contracts that are significant in relation to its current financial position or that will materially affect the level of future expenditure. Major capital assets of the Government are either purchased outright or leased. Where a lease transfers substantially all of the benefits and risks incidental to ownership of the property to the lessee, it is considered a capital lease. All other leases are classified as operating leases. Contractual commitments can be classified into four categories: fixed assets, purchases, operating leases and capital leases.

All contractual commitments of $100 million or more per project are reported in the case of fixed assets, purchases and operating leases. In the case of capital leases, all capital lease arrangements with total minimum lease payments remaining at year end in excess of $1 million per contract are reported.

Fixed assets, purchases and operating leases

Table 12.6 provides details of contractual commitments that involve fixed assets and purchases. Operating leases are not reported as there are no leases that are in excess of the $100 million limit. It discloses individual contractual commitments by category and by envelope. Contractual commitments are summarized in Note 16 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume.

Fixed assets are tangible, durable items of value, including major additions or alterations thereto and including military equipment, from which benefits are expected to be derived during their useful life and including land.

Purchase commitments are commitments supported by a contract to supply goods or services. An operating lease is a lease in which the lessor does not transfer substantially all the benefits and risks incident to ownership of property.

Capital Leases

Table 12.7 provides details of commitments under capital lease arrangements which are summarized in Note 16 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume. A capital lease is a lease that, from the point of view of the Government, transfers substantially all the benefits and risks incident to ownership of the asset to the Government. Table 12.8 presents commitments under capital lease arrangements in order of maturity.

[3] The contract was signed by Public Works Canada (PWC) on November 25, 1985, however, the anticipated inception date is October 1, 1988 when it is expected that the building will be officially turned over to PWC. At that point, the implicit interest rate, the annual lease payments, the imputed interest and the net commitment will be determined.

Insurance Programs of Agent Crown Corporations

At present, three Crown corporations operate insurance programs as agents of Her Majesty. An insurance program is a program where the insured, an outside party, pays an insurance fee which is credited to an insurance fund or provision operated by the corporation. The amount of the fee is based on the estimated amount of insurance fund or provision needed to meet future claims. Insurance programs operated by private corporations such as employee group insurance, dental plans, etc, are not included in this definition.

The insurance programs are intended to operate on a self-sustaining basis but in recent years, two of the Crown corporations have required loans or other funding from the Government to meet obligations.

Information presented in Table 12.9 has not been audited since the three corporations have financial years other than March 31, 1988. Financial statements of these corporations may be found in Volume III of the Public Accounts.

In Table 12.9, a minus "–" sign preceding the amount reported indicates a fund deficit, an expense recovery or adjustment, or a decrease or loss during the year.

N/A—Not applicable.

[1] The Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (CDIC) provides insurance on deposits placed with member banks and trust and loan companies for up to $60,000 per depositor per institution. In recent years, premiums paid by member institutions have not been sufficient to meet obligations incurred by CDIC under the insurance plan. This deficiency has been funded in part by loans from the Government of $1,334 million at March 31, 1988 ($1,203 million at March 31, 1987). The Government is continuing to explore alternatives to allow CDIC, over the long run, to eliminate its deficiency without budgetary support from the Government. Since there is no reason to believe that this will not be the case, no provision has been made in the Government's accounts for the losses experienced by CDIC.

[2] Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) administers three funds of which only the Mortgage Insurance Fund (MIF) is active. The MIF provides insurance, for a fee, to private sector lending institutions to cover mortgage lending on Canadian housing. Besides establishing a framework of confidence for mortgage lending by private institutions, the Fund facilitates an adequate supply of mortgage funds by reducing the risk to lenders and by encouraging the secondary market trading of mortgages, to make housing more accessible for Canadians. Although the balance of the Fund is currently inadequate to meet future claims in respect to business in force, an actuarial study of the MIF in 1985 indicated that business undertaken since February 1985 is being written on a break-even basis. The actuarial deficiency ($251.7 million as of September 30, 1987) will be reflected in the Government's accounts only to the extent that additional funding of the deficiency from parliamentary appropriations may be required. Since 1984, the Corporation has also operated the Mortgage Rate Protection Program. In return for the payment of a premium, CMHC will reimburse homeowners 75% of any increase in monthly mortgage payments, above a deductible, due to higher interest rates at the time of mortgage renewal. As recent mortgage interest rates have been relatively stable, the program is not widely utilized and insurance in force at March 31, 1988 amounted to only $911,000 ($919,000 at March 31, 1987). Since premiums collected by CMHC are remitted directly to the Consolidated Revenue Fund (CRF) and obligations of the Program are ultimately payable from the CRF, the Mortgage Rate Protection Program does not meet the definition of a Crown corporation insurance plan as defined above. Therefore, summary operating particulars of this Program are not included in Table 12.9.

[3] The Export Development Corporation (EDC) provides export and foreign investment insurance to Canadian business to facilitate and develop export trade. The insurance fund has been adequate to provide for the full cost of claims experienced to date and to establish an allowance for any future claims based on previous claims experience.

[4] Less than $500,000.

[5] Refers to the difference between claims and amounts received from sales of related assets and other recoveries.

Contingent Liabilities

A contingent liability is a potential liability which may become an actual liability when one or more future events occur or fail to occur.

The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined as all the departments named in Schedule A of the Financial Administration Act; any division or branch of the Public Service of Canada, including a commission appointed under the Inquiries Act, designated by the Governor in Council as a department for purposes of the Financial Administration Act; the staffs of the Senate, the House of Commons, and the Library of Parliament; and, any corporation named in Schedule B of the Financial Administration Act. Corporations listed in Parts I and II of Schedule C of the Financial Administration Act, and those Crown corporations that are not subject to the Financial Administration Act, are excluded from this definition. Information regarding contingent liabilities of Crown corporations can be found in Table 7.10—"Contingent Liabilities of Crown Corporations", while details of their borrowings can be found in Tables 7.7 and 7.8—"Borrowings by Agent Crown Corporations" and "Borrowings by Crown Corporations" respectively. Some Crown corporations also operate insurance programs. Information regarding these insurance programs can be found in Table 12.9 of this section.

The contingent liabilities of the Government comprise explicit guarantees by the Government, which include borrowings by other than Crown corporations, both from agent Crown corporations and from other than agents. Such explicit guarantees consist of guarantee programs of the Government, explicit guarantees by the Government for loans, financial arrangements and other potential liabilities, insurance programs of the Government and other explicit guarantees. They also comprise potential losses arising from pending and threatened litigation relating to claims and assessments in respect of breach of contract, damages to persons and property, and like items. Pending and threatened litigation is reported in total in the following table. This table is also summarized in Note 18 to the audited financial statements of the Government in Section 2 of this volume.

The authorized limits indicated in the table below, represent the aggregate total of various types of authorities of Government bodies as stipulated in legislation, legal agreements or other documents that may be in force at any one time.

[1] Represents the average percentage over the most recent 5 years of net claims to the average amount of outstanding guarantees for the same period computed as at March 31, 1988. In some situations where historical data is not readily available, departmental estimates have been used.

[2] Includes committed guarantees for the following loans to be made: to Indians for on-reserve housing, $49,061,735; for Indian economic development, $678,631. As at March 31, 1988, no loans had been issued for these amounts.

[3] Letters of comfort have been issued by the Minister of Finance to the Bank of Canada with respect to funds advanced or guarantees provided by the Bank of Canada to the Bank for International Settlements (BIS). The letters pertain to BIS standby credit facilities in favour of the International Monetary Fund (IMF). The Government's potential liability and actual exposure on behalf of the IMF at March 31, 1988 amounted to 56.9 million Special Drawing Rights ($78,900,000 US).

[4] The Act places limits on the maximum amount of guarantee for loans made by eligible lenders over different loan periods. The maximum amount of guarantee per lender is expressed in legislation as a percentage of aggregate loans made to qualified borrowers and varies depending upon the dollar value range of aggregate loans made by the lender. The authorized limits for given loan periods are included in the figure reported until all qualified loans made by all eligible lenders in the given periods are no longer outstanding, and are not adjusted for loan repayments nor payments made by the Government for guaranteed amounts in which default has occurred.

[5] An authorized limit has yet to be determined.

[6] Includes $399,548 attributable to the Canadian Industrial Renewal Board and $3,121,309 to the Atlantic Enterprise Program for projects undertaken in the province of Quebec.

[7] Amount denominated wholly or partially in a foreign currency and translated at the closing rate of exchange as at date of statement.

[8] Authorized limit for loan guarantees for on-reserve housing totals $575,000,000 (shown above) for loans made by the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the Farm Credit Corporation and other approved lenders.

[9] The Export Development Act (EDA) authorizes the Export Development Corporation (EDC) to make various loans and commitments to foreign borrowers on behalf of the Government of Canada to a maximum limit of $6 billion net of repayments. Included within this limit are outstanding loans made by other lenders who have recourse against EDC in the event of default by the borrower. Accordingly, the authorized limit for lenders with recourse in loans receivable will equate to the actual amount of contingent liability reported in accordance with the requirements of the EDA.

[10] The maximum aggregate amount that may be, or may have been paid from the Consolidated Revenue Fund (CRF) in previous, current or subsequent years with respect to all guarantees authorized and granted relative to Indian economic development, is set at $60 million. As at March 31, 1988, a total of $25,721,727 has been expended from the CRF leaving a balance of $34,278,273 available for disbursement.

[11] Maislin Industries Ltd was placed in receivership on July 11, 1983 and was declared bankrupt on October 19, 1983. To date, the Government has made interim payments totalling $18,500,000 US to creditors under a guarantee in the amount of $27,000,000 US. It is anticipated that the Government will be called upon to make a final payment to settle remaining obligations to creditors when certain issues are settled in US Bankruptcy Court, but the amount cannot be determined at present with any certainty.

[12] There have been no claims under the Nuclear Liability Act since its inception in 1970. The Act covers 14 Canadian nuclear installations as at March 31, 1988.

[13] The Fishing Vessel Insurance Plan is administered by the Government to assist fishermen to meet abnormal capital losses. A specified purpose account is credited with all amounts received by way of premiums, recoveries and with advances to the fund by the Government, such advances not to exceed $150,000 at any time. The fund is debited with refunds of premiums and payments in settlement of third party vessel collision damage claims against fishermen, where the collision involves a vessel insured under the Plan. As at March 31, 1988, the insured value of vessels under the Plan amounted to $453,056,000; the balance of the fund was $17,942,487 and outstanding claims against the fund totalled $1,100,000.

[14] The Export Development Act specifies that EDC may enter into contracts of insurance, re-insurance, related guarantees and other agreements up to a maximum of $7 billion, the authorized limit.

[15] Less than 0.1%.

[16] The Defence Production Act authorizes the Minister of the Department of Supply and Services to purchase or otherwise acquire defence supplies to the extent of $100 million in excess of receipts credited to the Defence Production Revolving Fund unless otherwise authorized by Parliament. Accordingly, the authorized limit of this item will equal the actual amount of contingent liability reported in accordance with total commitments authorized under the Defence Production Act up to the total approved limit.

[17] Includes $1.6 billion related to native statutory and treaty obligations representing plaintiffs' claims in 54 litigation cases. There are another 89 similar cases for which amounts are not stated in the claims, and for which it is not possible to determine the amounts that may be ultimately payable.

[18] Contingent gains. A contingent gain is a potential gain or possible recovery that may become an actuality when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. Three departments reported contingent gains as at March 31, 1988 totalling approximately $7 million.

INTRODUCTION TO THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Nature of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is the report of the Government of Canada prepared each fiscal year by the Receiver General as required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act.

The report covers the fiscal year of the Government, which ends on March 31, and is prepared from data contained in the accounts of Canada and from more detailed records maintained in departments and agencies. The accounts of Canada is the centralized record of the Government's financial transactions maintained by the Receiver General in which the transactions of all departments and agencies are summarized. Each department and agency is responsible for reconciling its accounts to the control accounts of the Receiver General, and for maintaining detailed records of the transactions in their accounts.

The report covers the financial transactions of the Government during the year. In certain cases, parliamentary authority to undertake transactions was provided by legislation approved in earlier years.

Format of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is produced in three volumes. Volume I presents a summary analysis of the financial transactions of the Government while Volume III contains an annual consolidated report on the businesses and activities of all parent Crown corporations together with a listing of all Crown corporations and other corporate interests of Canada.

Volume II is published in two parts. Part I presents the financial operations of the Government, segregated by ministry while Part II presents additional information and analyses.

Part I is designed to reflect as closely as possible the form and content of Part II of the Main Estimates. Most tables and statements in Part I display the source and disposition of spending authorities. The level of details provided for the source and disposition of authorities is explained below:

- Source of Authorities
  - Available from previous years
    Spending authorities allowed to be brought forward from the previous year. Includes only those authorities where there is a specified dollar limit on total spending, or on the accumulated outstanding balance of items where revenues and receipts are available for spending. Usually these items are either revolving funds or loans. These amounts are available for spending without further approval from Parliament.
  - Main and Supplementary Estimates
    Include:
    - spending authorities requested in Main and Supplementary Estimates and approved by Appropriation Acts;
    - forecasts included in Main and Supplementary Estimates of spending under authorities granted in various other statutes including Appropriation Acts of previous years.
  - Adjustments and transfers
    Include:
    - transfers from or to other ministries such as Treasury Board contingency votes or changes in ministry responsibility;
    - transfers within the ministry from one vote to another (under Parliamentary authority), or between activities, types of expenditures or transfer payments;
    - changes to statutory amounts due to adjustments of spending forecasts included in Main and Supplementary Estimates, due to cancellation or amendment to statutes or due to adjustments of Crown corporations borrowing authorities;
    - reserved allotments to cover over-expenditures of previous year's authorities.
  - Total available for use
    Authorities available for spending during the current year (net of forecasted revenues and receipts available for spending).
- Disposition of Authorities
  - Used in the current year
    Amounts spent in the current year (net of actual revenues and receipts available for spending).
  - Lapsed (variance under)
    Unused spending authorities which cannot be carried forward to a subsequent year.
  - Overexpended (variance over)
    Excess of spending over authorities granted.
  - Available for use in subsequent years
    Unused spending authorities which have not lapsed and which are carried forward to a subsequent year.

- Used in the previous year
  Amounts spent in the previous year (net of actual revenues and receipts available for spending). For authorities, activities or transfer payments that no longer exist in the current year, the related total net expenditure of the previous year is reported as a single amount in line with the notation "Appropriation (activities or items) not required for the current year".

The content of Part I is summarized as follows:

(a) Summary Tables (Section 1)

Section 1 includes the following tables which provide summaries of the financial operations contained in the ministerial sections:

Table 1	presents the source and disposition of budgetary authorities by ministry
Table 2	presents the source and disposition of non-budgetary authorities by ministry
Table 3	presents the source and disposition of budgetary and non-budgetary authorities by ministry and by type of authority (voted and statutory)
Table 4	presents expenditure by envelope for each ministry
Table 5	presents expenditure by standard object for each ministry
Table 6	presents revenue by main classification for each ministry

Section 1 also includes, as appendices, the full wording of all authorities granted in current year Appropriation Acts, of all authorities granted by Statutes other than Appropriation Acts, of all non-lapsing authorities granted in the current year, and of all authorities available from previous years.

(b) Ministerial Sections (Sections 2 to 29)

There is one section for each ministry. The programs for the departments and agencies for which a Minister is responsible to Parliament are grouped together to provide a total ministry presentation. Each ministerial section provides a statement of program objectives and activity descriptions. Each ministerial section also includes, where applicable, a uniform set of statements to present each ministry's financial operations. These statements are:

- Ministry Summary
  This statement displays by program the source and disposition of each budgetary and non-budgetary authority granted by Parliament in Appropriation Acts and other statutes.
- Programs by Activity
  This statement displays by program the source and disposition of authorities for each activity under each type of expenditure (operating, capital, transfer payments and non-budgetary).
- Transfer Payments
  This statement displays by program the source and disposition of authorities for each transfer payment.
- Details of Amounts Credited to the Vote
  This statement displays by program the nature of revenues and receipts which increase the amounts which may be spent from appropriations having net voting authority.
- Revenue
  This statement displays by program the nature of revenue collected for each main classification of revenue.

The statements in the ministerial sections are designed so that the relevant totals and sub-totals may be traced directly to a preceeding statement and then to the Summary Tables in Section 1. In this way:

- data in the Transfer Payments statement can be traced to the Programs by Activity statement which can in turn be traced to the Ministry Summary (of source and disposition of authorities) statement. Data in the Ministry Summary statement can be traced to the Summary Tables (Tables 1, 2 and 3) in Section 1.
- data in the Details of Amounts Credited to the Vote statement can be traced to the Programs by Activity statement and also to Summary Table 5 in Section 1.
- data in the Revenue statement can be traced to Summary Table 6 in Section 1.

General Summary
Expenditure by Envelope

Table 4 presents expenditure by envelope for each ministry. Total net expenditure by envelope is segregated into expenditure with outside parties and expenditure internal to the Government. In addition, total expenditure with outside parties is presented on both a gross and net basis. The difference between gross an net expenditure with outside parties is revenue credited to appropriations from outside parties.

In this table, expenditure with outside parties represents expenditure incurred as a result of transactions with organizations and individuals outside the Government of Canada as an accounting entity while expenditure internal to the Government represents expenditure incurred as a result of transactions between organizations within the accounting entity. The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of Volume I.

Revenue credited to appropriations represents revenue that has been credited to expenditure rather than to revenue where authority has been granted by Parliament.

The "Total" column of this table presents the total expenditure reported for each ministry in the ministerial sections of this volume.

The last part of this table reconciles total expenditure reported by ministries with expenditure reported in the audited Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit in Section 2 of Volume I. The reconciling items include the expenditure of the consolidated specified purpose accounts, the provision for valuation, and the elimination of expenditure internal to the Government. "Total net expenditure" represents all budgetary expenditure recorded in the accounts of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government as set out in Note 1 to the audited financial statements of the Government in Section 2 of Volume I.

General Summary
Expenditure by Standard Object

Table 5 presents expenditure by standard object for each ministry. The standard object presentation of expenditure is related to the goods and services acquired, and transfer payments made, by the Government. Total expenditure is presented on both a gross and net basis. The difference between gross and net expenditure is revenue credited to appropriations. The table also segregates expenditure with outside parties and expenditure internal to the Government.

In this table, expenditure with outside parties represents expenditure incurred as a result of transactions with organizations and individuals outside the Government of Canada as an accounting entity while expenditure internal to the Government represents expenditure incurred as a result of transactions between organizations within the accounting entity. The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of Volume I.

Revenue credited to appropriations represents revenue that has been credited to expenditure rather than to revenue where authority has been granted by Parliament.

"Total gross expenditure" before consolidated specified purpose accounts and provision represents the total of expenditure charged to standard objects 1 to 12 inclusively. "Total net expenditure" represents the result of total gross expenditure less total revenue credited to appropriations as reported in the accounts of Canada. "Total net expenditure" before consolidated specified purpose accounts and provision discloses the total expenditure reported for each ministry in the ministerial sections of this volume.

The last part of this table reconciles total expenditure reported by ministries with expenditure reported in the audited Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit in Section 2 of Volume I. The reconciling items include the expenditure of the consolidated specified purpose accounts, the provision for valuation, and the elimination of expenditure internal to the Government. "Total net expenditure" represents all budgetary expenditure recorded in the accounts of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government as set out in Note 1 to the audited financial statements of the Government in Section 2 of Volume I.

General Summary
Revenue by Main Classification

Table 6 presents revenue by main classification for each ministry on both a gross and net basis. The difference between gross and net revenue is revenue credited to appropriations. The table also segregates revenue from outside parties and revenue internal to the Government.

In this table, revenue from outside parties represents revenue received from organizations and individuals outside the Government of Canada as an accounting entity while revenue internal to the Government represents revenue generated from transactions between organizations within the accounting entity. The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of Volume I.

Revenue credited to appropriations represents revenue that has been credited to expenditure rather than to revenue where authority has been granted by Parliament.

"Total gross revenue" column represents revenue from all sources, including revenue credited to appropriations. The "Revenue internal to the Government" column represents the tax and non-tax revenue internal to the Government. The "Total net revenue" column represents tax and non-tax revenue from both external and internal sources, excluding revenue credited to appropriations. This latter column discloses total ministerial revenue before consolidated accounts as reported in the "Revenue" statement in each ministerial section of this volume.

The last part of this table reconciles total revenue reported by ministries with revenue reported in the audited Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit in Section 2 of Volume I. The reconciling items include the revenue from the consolidated specified purpose accounts, the adjustment of the Exchange Fund Account to recognize the international reserves held in the Account, and the elimination of revenue internal to the Government. "Total net revenue" represents all budgetary revenue recorded in the accounts of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government as set out in Note 1 to the audited financial statements of the Government in Section 2 of Volume I.

1 Treasury Board Vote 5--Government contingencies
Treasury Board Vote 10--Employment initiatives

2 In accordance with the Canada Petroleum Resources Act dated November 18, 1986, the Environmental Studies Revolving Fund ceased operations on April 1, 1987. The unused authority was transferred to the Environmental Studies Research Fund on April 1, 1987. There was no other use of the appropriation for the 1987/88 fiscal year. The amount of $1,362,000 in the Estimates represented the expected surplus in the Fund in case the legislation would not have been passed. Both revenues and expenditures of the previous year were restated by $824,583.

1 Treasury Board Vote 10--Employment initiatives.

2 In accordance with the Canada Petroleum Resources Act dated November 18, 1986, the Environmental Studies Revolving Fund ceased operations on April 1, 1987. This amount represents the unused authority of $1,056,672 which was transferred to the Environmental Studies Research Fund on April 1, 1987 and a net credit adjustment of $122,134 for prior years' corrections. There was no other use of the appropriation for the 1987/88 fiscal year. The amount of $600,000 in the Estimates represented the expected loss in the Fund in case the legislation would not have been passed. Both revenues and expenditures of the previous year were restated by $584,405.

This element encompasses the creation and maintenance of general-purpose regular and reserve maritime forces designed primarily to fulfil the missions of defending, in conjunction with U.S. and NATO forces, the maritime approaches to North America and the sea areas vital to NATO; and conducting in conjunction with U.S. Forces, surveillance to detect, track and identify strategic submarine forces threatening North America. The forces raised for these purposes have the inherent capabilities necessary to fulfil the other missions assigned, namely: protecting Canadian territory, rights and interests against external maritime challenges; assisting other Government departments and agencies in enforcing Canadian laws and regulations in maritime areas under Canadian jurisdiction; contributing maritime forces to international arrangements to prevent or contain conflicts outside the NATO area; and contributing to national development.

Land Forces in Canada

This element encompasses the creation and maintenance of general-purpose regular and reserve land forces designed primarily to fulfil, concurrently, the two missions of defending, in conjunction with U.S. Forces, against hostile military lodgement in North America; and providing, in an emergency, additional land forces for the defence of Europe within the framework of agreed NATO commitments. The forces raised for these purposes have the inherent capabilities necessary to fulfil the other missions assigned, namely: promoting international stability by contributing to peacekeeping activities in co-operation with other members of the international community; supplementing and supporting the civilian authorities in maintaining surveillance and preserving control over and security within the national territory of Canada; assisting civilian authorities in the event of emergency or disaster; and contributing to national development.

Air Forces in Canada

This element encompasses the creation and maintenance of general-purpose regular and reserve air forces designed primarily to fulfil, concurrently, the two missions of defending, in conjunction with U.S. Forces against aerospace attack on North America; and providing in an emergency additional general-purpose air forces for the defence of Europe within the framework of agreed NATO commitments. It includes, as well, the provision of an air transport system to support military commitments in Canada and abroad, tactical helicopter forces to support the needs of the land forces in Canada, maritime air forces to support Canada's maritime forces, and search and rescue forces. The forces raised for these purposes have the inherent capabilities necessary to fulfil the other missions assigned, namely: supplementing and supporting the civilian authorities in maintaining surveillance and preserving control over the Canadian airspace, assisting civilian authorities in the event of emergency or disaster and contributing to national development.

Canadian Forces in Europe

This element encompasses the creation and maintenance of military forces in Europe in order to prevent or contain armed attack against the European NATO area. It involves the three missions of providing land forces, air forces and national command and support of all Canadian forces which would, in an emergency, serve in Europe.

Communication Services

This element encompasses the creation and maintenance of forces designed to provide information handling services in the form of strategic communications in support of the Canadian Forces and Emergency Government (EMGOV) tasks. In addition, communications research and high frequency direction-finding facilities are provided.

Personnel Support

This element encompasses the provision of services required for the personnel development (recruitment, individual training, education), personnel management (administration, career assignment, spiritual, morale, comfort support), and health services (medical, dental) as appropriate for military and civilian members of the Department.

Materiel Support

This element encompasses the provision of supply, transportation, equipment engineering and maintenance, real property management, and research and development.

Policy Direction and Management Services

This element encompasses the formulation and recommendation of defence objectives and policy options and the development of clear authoritative expressions of Government approved defence policy to provide overall direction for developmental planning in the Department and the management of the Defence Services Program. Equally important, is the command and control function,within which the detailed operational, materiel, personnel and financial preparations are made for times of crisis or war. This function also embodies the exercise of command and control of the "day-to-day" operations of the Canadian Forces by the Chief of Defence Staff or delegated subordinate commanders. With respect to the more general management services, this element includes the development, and general direction of management information systems, consulting, audit, evaluation, financial and accounting services within the Department, that are consistent with legislative and regulatory requirements and authority.

Within the broad range of duties specified by the Act, there are three sets of activities which describe the program:

- to carry out economic research and policy analysis, to consult with representatives of all economic interests, and to develop its own policy recommendations;
- to communicate findings and recommendations to decision-makers in all sectors of the economy for consideration in the development of their own policies and strategies that bear directly on the performance of the economy; and
- to foster a fuller appreciation of economic issues throughout the country.

Public Service Staff Relations Board

Objective

To provide the framework within which the various rights and responsibilities of participants to collective bargaining in the Public Service are to be exercised and to provide information to participants on rates of pay and other conditions of employment in Canada.

Activity Description

Staff Relations Administration

The Public Service Staff Relations Board is the quasi-judicial statutory tribunal responsible for the administration of the Public Service Staff Relations Act which established a system of collective bargaining and grievance adjudication in the Federal Public Service. Its mandate as a neutral third party is to resolve, by assistance or determination, disputes over the negotiation, application and interpretation of collective agreements, the imposition of discipline, and disputes over all other manner of proceedings falling under the purview of the Act.

The Board also provides physical premises and administrative support services to the National Joint Council which is a consultative body of representatives of the employer and employees for the negotiation of terms and conditions of employment that do not lend themselves to unit by unit bargaining.

Pay Research Bureau

The Pay Research Bureau conducts research and carries out surveys on rates of pay, benefits and conditions of employment primarily as they relate to those units of employees in the Public Service to whom the system of collective bargaining established by the Public Service Staff Relations Act applies. The Bureau also engages in similar activities in respect of groups that are excluded from that process.

Security Intelligence Review Committee

Objective

To provide external review of the Canadian Security Intelligence Service performance of its duties and functions; and to examine complaints by individuals or reports by Ministers related to security clearances and the national security of Canada.

Activity Description

Security Intelligence Review Committee

The Security Intelligence Review Committee conducts research, institutes studies, undertakes compliance audits, and reports annually to Parliament on the activities of the Canadian Security Intelligence Service. The Committee also conducts investigations of relevant files, holds hearings, calls witnesses, and makes reports to the deputy heads and Ministers concerned, or to the Governor in Council.

INTRODUCTION TO THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Nature of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is the report of the Government of Canada prepared each fiscal year by the Receiver General as required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act.

The report covers the fiscal year of the Government, which ends on March 31, and is prepared from data contained in the accounts of Canada and from more detailed records maintained in departments and agencies. The accounts of Canada is the centralized record of the Government's financial transactions maintained by the Receiver General in which the transactions of all departments and agencies are summarized. Each department and agency is responsible for reconciling its accounts to the control accounts of the Receiver General, and for maintaining detailed records of the transactions in their accounts.

The report covers the financial transactions of the Government during the year. In certain cases, parliamentary authority to undertake transactions was provided by legislation approved in earlier years.

Format of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is produced in three volumes. Volume I presents a summary analysis of the financial transactions of the Government while Volume III contains an annual consolidated report on the businesses and activities of all parent Crown corporations together with a listing of all Crown corporations and other corporate interests of Canada.

Volume II is published in two parts. Part I presents the financial operations of the Government, segregated by ministry while Part II presents additional information and analyses. The content of Part II is summarized as follows:

- financial statements of revolving funds (Section 1);
- financial statements of departmental corporations and other entities (Section 2);
- supplementary information required by the Financial Administration Act (Section 3);
- accounts receivable (Section 4);
- professional and special services (Section 5);
- construction and acquisition of land, buildings, works, machinery and equipment (Section 6);
- transfer payments (Section 7);
- public debt charges (Section 8);
- payments of damage claims, ex gratia payments, Federal Court awards and nugatory payments (Section 9);
- federal-provincial shared-cost programs (Section 10);
- other Government-wide information (Section 11); and,
- other miscellaneous information (Section 12).

Defence Production Revolving Fund

MANAGEMENT REPORT

The accompanying financial statements of the Defence Production Revolving Fund have been prepared by Supply and Services Canada in accordance with Treasury Board policies, the Defence Production Act, and reporting requirements and standards of the Receiver General for Canada.

These financial statements have been prepared on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year and are consistent with information presented elsewhere in the Public Accounts and with ministerial statements. Significant accounting policies used in the preparation of the financial statements are included in the notes to financial statements.

The primary responsibility for the integrity and objectivity of data in these financial statements rests with the Finance and Administration sector. This responsibility is discharged by the Comptroller's Directorate which develops and disseminates financial management and accounting policies and issues specific directives necessary to maintain standards of accounting and financial management. Furthermore, the Department maintains internal controls designed to indicate accountability, provide assurance that assets are safeguarded and that reliable financial records are kept. Financial management and internal control systems are augmented by the maintenance of internal audit programs.

MARCH 31, 1988

1. Purpose and authority

The Defence Production Revolving Fund has been authorized by Section 15 of the Defence Production Act. It was established in 1951 for the purpose of:

(a) financing the stockpiling of defence supplies or strategic materials;

(b) making loans or advances to aid in defence procurement such as working capital loans as advance payments on contracts but not including loans or advance payments for capital purposes; and

(c) permitting initial payments for defence supplies which can be promptly billed to a Government department, agency or an associated government in advance of delivery of goods.

The Adjustment of Accounts Act (S.C. 1980, c. 17) had the effect of creating a separate Defence Production Loan Account for loans or advances authorized under the Defence Production Act, item (b) above.

The Fund and the Defence Production Loan Account have a continuing non-lapsing authority from the Adjustment of Accounts Act to make payments out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, the total of which is not to exceed at any time by more than $100 million the aggregate of amounts received on these two accounts. An amount of $15,408,997, representing net assets assumed by the Fund, was charged to this authority when the Fund became budgetary in 1981. Pursuant to Treasury Board authority, the accumulated surplus in the amount of $455,935 has been transferred to the Fund's authority during 1984-85.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Payments to suppliers for defence supplies are billed to departments and Crown corporations at cost.

(b) Progress payments to suppliers

Progress payments and accrued liabilities to suppliers for defence supplies requisitioned by Government departments and agencies and/or for stockpiled inventories, which are in progress and located on the supplier's premises, are recorded as progress payments to suppliers. Under the terms of the contracts, the suppliers are liable to the Fund until delivery takes place.

(c) Progress billings to customers

Billings to customers for defence supplies requisitioned which have not yet been delivered to customers are recorded in the accounts as progress billings to customers.

Note: For the years ended March 31, 1987 and March 31, 1988 there were no transactions that applied to (b) and (c).

3. Long-term receivable

In accordance with the terms of an agreement, the collection of the long-term receivable is dependent on the recipient's ability to make sales. Should the sales be insufficient to retire the debt, any balance owing will be recovered from the Department of National Defence. It is anticipated the balance owing as at March 31, 1988 will be recovered during the next fiscal year.

Government Telecommunications Agency Revolving Fund

MANAGEMENT REPORT

The accompanying financial statements of the Government Telecommunications Agency (GTA) Revolving Fund have been prepared as required by and in accordance with the policy and procedures of the Treasury Board for revolving funds and the reporting requirements and standards of the Receiver General for Canada. The primary responsibility for the integrity and objectivity of data in these financial statements rests with the management of the Fund.

These financial statements were prepared in accordance with the stated accounting policies, as set out in Note 2, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year. Some of the information included in these financial statements is based on management's best estimates and judgements and gives due consideration to materiality. Financial information contained in the ministerial statements and elsewhere in the Public Accounts is consistent with that in these financial statements, unless indicated otherwise.

The Assistant Deputy Minister, Corporate Management develops and disseminates financial management and accounting policies and issues specific directives which maintain standards of accounting and financial management. These are supplemented by additional systems and procedures developed and implemented by the Fund's Finance and Administration Division. The Fund maintains systems of financial management and internal control at appropriate cost. Transactions are executed in accordance with prescribed regulations, within parliamentary authorities and are properly recorded to maintain accountability of Government funds and safeguard the Fund's assets. Financial management and internal control systems are augmented by the activities of internal audit and by frequent contacts with departmental financial and internal audit officers.

The Fund also seeks to assure the objectivity and integrity of data in its financial statements by the careful selection, training and development of qualified accounting staff, by organizational arrangements that provide appropriate divisions of responsibility and by a high standard of internal communications aimed at ensuring that its regulations, policies, procedures and managerial authorities are understood throughout the Agency.

The accounting systems and financial statements of the Fund have evolved over the years to meet changing conditions. A new integrated financial information system, utilizing state-of-the-art financial systems software and technology, was installed during fiscal year 1987-88 and is in place for fiscal year 1988-89. The new system is required to handle the increased volume and complexity of financial transactions within the Fund and the need for accurate and timely allocation and recovery of costs, accounting and control of accounts receivable, and improved financial reporting.
